As Prelude To Peace Conference

British Commonwealth Urges Cease-Fire In Viet

LONDON (AP) — The British Commonwealth appealed today for a cease-fire in Viet Nam as a necessary prelude to a peace conference aimed at uniting the divided land.

The 21-nation conference of Commonwealth chiefs of government issued the appeal in the form of instructions to a four-nation Viet Nam peace mission set up at the outset of the week-long meeting.

The leaders called for an end of all U.S. air attacks on North Viet Nam and an undertaking by the Hanoi government "to prevent the movement of any military forces or assistance or material to South Viet Nam."

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson told a news conference the mission will set out on its quest for peace as soon as it is able to visit enough interested capitals to make its endeavor meaningful.

The key question, Wilson said, is whether the North Vietnamese government agrees to talk to the mission. He said that he personally does not believe the mission should go to Saigon if it is unable to go to Hanoi.

"It would not be very productive," Wilson said, "if we are unable to get both points of view."

The mission contacted Washington, Moscow, Peking, Hanoi and Saigon last Saturday asking permission to discuss possibilities of calling a Viet Nam peace conference.

Washington and Saigon accepted. Moscow refused to receive the mission if it did not first talk to Hanoi and the Viet Cong rebels. Peking flatly refused to talk with the mission.

Hanoi has not replied officially to the request, but North Vietnamese propaganda organs have labeled the mission a fraud serving U.S. interests.

Wilson indicated that the mission plans to meet with U.N. Secretary General U Thant in Geneva early next month. He said he believed the Hanoi reply will be in by that time to enable the mission to assess possibilities of success in its bid for peace.

In their final communique, the leader also proposed a world conference on disarmament with Red China represented and pledged support for moves to halt the spread of nuclear weapons. They said the partial nuclear test-ban treaty should cover underground explosions as well as those in the atmosphere, in space and under the sea.

Political Tensions Explode

Power Plant Attacked By Insurgents

Outbreak Occurs At Site 60 Miles From Capital City

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Political tensions in San Francisco de Macoris exploded with sudden fury Friday and at least 16 persons were reported killed in clashes between armed rebels and junta forces.

A four-man team of the Organization of American States said most of the casualties occurred when armed rebel partisans attacked the San Francisco power plant at about dawn. The team picked from the inter-American peace force reported after returning from a quick helicopter trip to the city 60 miles northwest of Santo Domingo.

Twelve rebels and four members of the Dominican armed forces or police loyal to the junta were killed, OAS sources said.

A junta communique said eight rebels were killed and 30 captured in three attacks on military police and army installations. It said one junta defender was wounded.

By nightfall San Francisco was described as quiet by the OAS investigators and the junta but reports conflicted on the situation in the interior city long regarded as a rebel hotbed.

There was an unconfirmed report that the junta had sent 400 reinforcements to San Francisco.

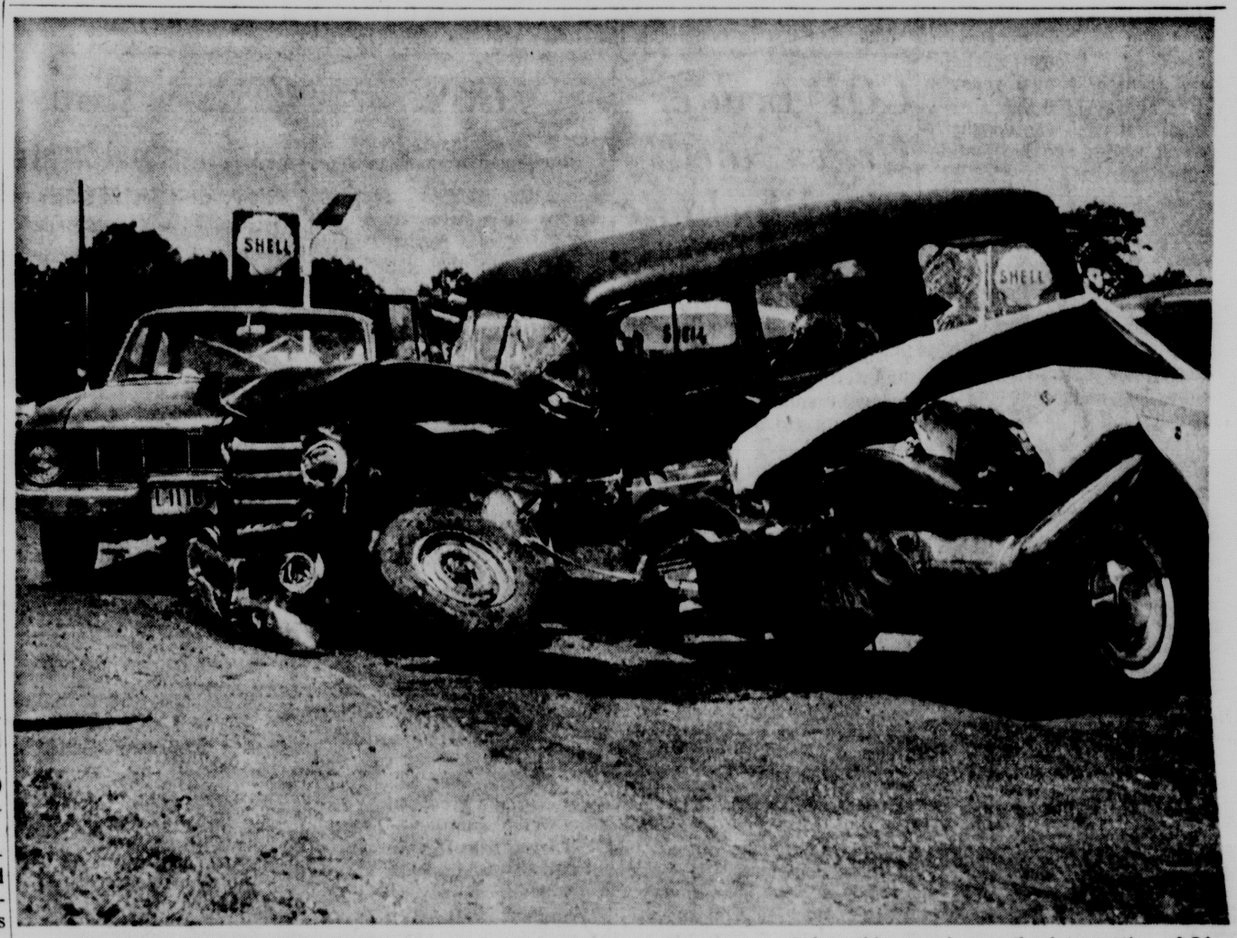

The Inter-American Human Rights Commission planned to go to San Francisco today to investigate.

San Francisco is the country's third largest city, with a population of 60,000.

The outbreak came, the junta said, just as OAS peace efforts appeared to be making progress in ending the conflict.

The OAS political committee was reported working in Santo Domingo on a list of names of prominent Dominicans to make up a provisional government. Under the peace formula the OAS proposed a week ago, the provisional government would serve pending general elections in six to nine months.

The rebel regime has accepted, with some minor reservations, the OAS proposal. The junta asked for major changes in the formula and suggested it could act as the provisional government, either with added membership or with the advice of a consultative group.

TWO MEN WERE HOSPITALIZED, one reported serious, in a three-car crash late this morning at the intersection of Lisbon St. Ext. and the Y. & O. Rd. in Glenmoor. Witnesses said one car was headed west on the Y. & O. Rd. when it failed to observe a stop sign and slammed into a station wagon headed south on Route 267. Both cars then crashed into a third car halted on the Y. & O. Rd. for a stop sign. The Highway Patrol at Lisbon is investigating. Lewie Williams, 1049 Monaca St., was one of those hospitalized, according to early reports.

Overrun District Town

Red Attacks Kill 44 Of Vietnamese

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist Viet Cong forces overran a district town and a battalion command post in separate attacks today. It was their first major offensive since the battle of Dong Xoai two weeks ago.

Military spokesmen said 44 Vietnamese infantrymen were killed and another 40 wounded at the command post near Duc Hoa, 20 miles west of Saigon. Viet Cong dead were given as 34.

The Viet Cong overran the district town of Tou Marong, 45 miles north of Kontum, near the Laotian border. Spokesmen said radio contact was lost with the town's 200 defenders.

Fighter - bombers were not able to get to the region because of a low cloud ceiling in the central highlands region, the spokesman said.

Five U.S. Marines were presumed drowned today when the M48 tank in which they were riding plunged into a deep hole in a stream, a U.S. Marine spokesman announced. One body had been recovered, he said.

An explosion ripped through a crowded truckload of Australian and American soldiers today, killing one American and two Australians and wounding 10 other Australians, a military spokesman reported.

He said the explosion at Bien Hoa Air Base was believed to have been accidental, possibly from a grenade.

The new fighting and mishaps came a day after terrorist bombs blasted a crowded floating restaurant in Saigon and after the Viet Cong executed an American prisoner.

Latest casualty figures from the restaurant blast were 42 killed and about 80 wounded, U.S. officials said. The dead included 12 Americans, they said.

The executed American was U.S. Army Sgt. Harold George Bennett of Perryville, Ark. His killing was in retaliation for executions of Viet Cong terrorists by the Saigon government.

In the air, 15 U.S. Navy planes hit an ammunition dump 50 miles southwest of Hanoi and pilots reported heavy damage to the target, U.S. military spokesmen said.

The 15 A4 Skyhawks from the 7th Fleet carrier Midway encountered light ground fire but no enemy planes and all the American craft returned safely to the carrier, the spokesmen said. The target was the Qui Han ammunition depot and the attack lasted about 15 minutes.

In other strikes, U.S. war planes hit a bridge 175 miles south of Hanoi and bombed another span about 115 miles be-

Probe Opens Into Crash Of Transport Jet

72 Marines Bound For Okinawa Are Among 84 Victims

EL TORO, Calif. (AP) — Air Force investigators concentrated today on learning the cause of the crash of a big jet transport plane that took 84 lives, including 72 Okinawa-bound Marines.

The four-engine C135 broke into flaming fragments after it smashed into cactus and brush-covered terrain Friday less than 100 feet from the top of Loma Ridge. It went down in fog and drizzle about a minute after takeoff at 1:44 a.m. from the El Toro Marine Air Station.

The Military Air Transport Service plane, a military version of Boeing's 707, carried a 12-man Air Force crew from McGuire Air Force Base, N.J. The plane was destined for Honolulu.

The 72 Marines aboard, who came from all parts of the country, had been processed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., as replacements to the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa. Okinawa is a staging area for troop movements to Viet Nam.

Crash of the transport plane turned the greenish-brown hillside into a mile-square area of fiery devastation. It looked as though the litter had been fired from a giant shotgun.

It made husky Marines ill when they visited the scene to remove the bodies and parts of bodies.

The searchers groped through swirling fog and smoke. Finding a body, they drove a stake into the ground to guide litter bearers to the spot.

Burns Prove Fatal To County Woman, 81

LISBON—Burns suffered June 11 when her clothing caught fire at home have claimed the life of Mrs. Leora Bell Todd, 81, of Lisbon R.D. 1. She died at 4:45 a. m. today at Salem City Hospital.

Mrs. Todd, who was preparing breakfast when the fire occurred, suffered burns over more than 80 per cent of her body.

She was born March 16, 1884, in Boardman, a daughter of James Lowry and Mary Ellen Dickey Lowry, and had resided in this vicinity for 62 years. She married James Merlin Todd Dec. 29, 1903.

Survivors in addition to her husband include a son, James L. Todd, Lisbon R. D. 1; a brother, Leroy Lowry, Columbiana; a sister, Mrs. James Loudon, Lisbon; three grandchildren, and six great - grandchildren.

Services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. from the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. William E. Harper. Burial will be in the Bethel United Presbyterian Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Monday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Lake Group Will Present Case Monday

The hearing was continued from Thursday when a delegation from the Highlandtown area appeared to protest the vacating of two roads necessary for the project.

Ned Williams and Harry Logan of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources were on hand Thursday to brief those present on progress of the planning.

Williams, from his office in Columbus Friday, warned that a delay in vacating the roads could mean that the lake could be held up for possibly a year or two, with funds earmarked for its construction being used elsewhere in the state. A contract for construction of the lake dam is scheduled to be awarded next week.

Not Optimistic In Viet Nam

Red Cross' Hopes Fade For Contacting Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans appeared today to be losing hope that contact can be established with American servicemen held prisoner by the Communist Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

"I see no basis for optimism," one official said. The Red Cross was asked for a status report on the situation after the Viet Cong announced Friday they had executed Sgt. Harold B. Bennett, an American prisoner.

More than two months ago the Red Cross disclosed it had received word from the International Red Cross that the Viet Cong had agreed to deliver mail to American servicemen held prisoner in South Viet Nam.

At the time, it was thought that such contact, if it developed, might lead to other measures to make easier the lot of the American servicemen in Viet Cong hands.

However, Red Cross officials said there has been "no advancement" — that so far they have received no indication that any of the mail had been delivered.

"The news is not good," the official said. He added that the Red Cross had been candid with the families of the men.

Bennett, of Perryville, Ark., was captured last Dec. 2. The Viet Cong said they executed him in reprisal for South Vietnamese executions of Viet Cong terrorists. U.S. officials called Bennett's death a cold-blooded murder.

Bennett was one of 13 American soldiers listed as "detained" by the Viet Cong. One other is listed as in the hands of the North Vietnamese.

The contact with the Viet Cong has been handled by the Cambodian Red Cross. The International Red Cross, with headquarters in Switzerland, has been the link between the Cambodians and the American Red Cross.

No attempt has been made by the American Red Cross to establish a direct contact with the Viet Cong.

The efforts of the International Red Cross on behalf of the Americans have been cloaked in secrecy because of the sensitivity of the matter, officials said.

The Viet Cong has what it calls a Red Cross, but it is not officially recognized.

The North Vietnamese Red Cross is recognized but officials said it has refused to accept responsibility for actions of the Viet Cong operating in South Viet Nam.

U.S. To Make Contribution To U.N. Fund

Step Seen Despite Johnson's Failure To Make Disclosure

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Western diplomatic sources said today the United States would make a substantial financial contribution to the United Nations soon despite the failure of President Johnson to announce it at the U.N.'s 20th anniversary meeting.

Many delegates expressed disappointment that the President did not deal with the fiscal crisis in his speech Friday, but one diplomat familiar with the U.S. position said the omission was not significant. He said it was simply a case of deciding this was not the time or the place to deal with the issue.

Pentagon Hits Story About Rocket Sites

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon said today it knows of no medium range ground-to-ground nuclear missile sites being built in Communist North Viet Nam.

A copyrighted news story by Edward W. O'Brien, chief Washington correspondent for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, said United States authorities have evidence of construction of sites in North Viet Nam for Russian 1,200-mile range nuclear missiles.

The story was published by the Globe-Democrat and the Harrisburg (Pa.) Patriot and distributed by the Newhouse national news service.

In answer to a question about this, a Pentagon spokesman said:

"There is no evidence of any surface-to-surface missile sites in North Viet Nam.

"The report may have been confused with the construction of launch sites for surface-to-air (antiaircraft) missiles near Hanoi."

Africa-Asian Parley

Blast Injures 40 At Algiers Talks

ALGIERS (AP) — A mystery blast wrecked part of the electrical system in a building put up for the disputed Africa-Asian summit conference. Witnesses said at least 40 persons were injured.

Algerian authorities said a circuit failure touched off the explosion Friday night, but rumors swept Algiers that a bomb had been set off by anti-government terrorists seeking to sabotage the conference.

The foreign ministers of African and Asian countries were scheduled to hold a preliminary meeting today. It was not known whether they would be able to use the damaged structure 12 miles west of Algiers.

Armed security forces ringed the conference site after the blast and about 20 Egyptian workmen were detained.

There was considerable doubt the conference would go on as scheduled next Tuesday. There were new anti-government demonstrations Friday night and a sense of general unrest prevailed.

An underground "Popular Liberation Movement" circulated tracts calling for a nationwide general strike on the eve of the conference "to prove to the delegations that we will not tolerate the tyrant Houari Boumedienne."

Boumedienne was the defense minister in the Cabinet of President Ahmed Ben Bella. He seized power a week ago and had Ben Bella arrested as a traitor.

Demonstrations against Boumedienne have taken place almost nightly since the coup. Steel-helmeted police fired warning shots in the air and flung tear gas grenades Friday night at hundreds of demonstrators who marched through the streets chanting "Long live Ben Bella" and "Boumedienne to the gallows."

Deadline Now Set July 15

City To Hold Line On Cost Of Summer Street Work

The administration and Council have agreed to hold the line on the price to householders for the annual low - cost summer street improvement projects and the deadline for applications has been extended from next Wednesday until July 15.

Following the pattern used in the last two or three years, the cost to householders who petition for the program will be determined by multiplying the width of the street by the figure one cent, then multiplying that result by the length of the affected stretch, as expressed in feet.

For instance, if the street to be improved is 20 feet wide, the first step in arriving at a price is to multiply the width times the figure, one cent, giving a cost of 20 cents per lineal foot. Then, if the stretch to be improved is 100 feet long, the overall cost is determined by multiplying the cost per foot by the length, which in this case shows the price would be $20.

The cost per lineal foot determined by the city's formula is the price for the property-owners on each side of a stretch to be improved.

For instance, in the example cited, the cost for improving a 20-foot wide street for a distance of 100 feet would be $20 for the property - owner on the north side of the street and the other on the south side.

The formula was explained today by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, who said the decision to hold the line on

One Escapee Still At Large In Jail Break

Fourth Gives Self Up At Cleveland In Flight From Elyria

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 24-year-old jail escapee walked into central police station about midnight Friday night, leaving only one man still free from the band of five who broke out of the Lorain County jail Thursday night.

A few hours earlier he had eluded a 12-man police chase on the West Side. Police said they fired one shot at Fay.

Fay had been in jail on charges of grand larceny and breaking and entering.

Earlier three other escapees were returned to the jail.

Charles Twyman, 18, charged with burglary and grand larcent, and Le Roy Schart, 19, charged with rape and parole violation, were arrested near Steubenville Friday. Both are from Elyria.

Carl R. Mahaffey, 25, of Elyria, charged with intent to defraud, was arrested in Lakewood early Friday morning on charges of being a "suspicious person." He admitted under questioning that he was one of the fugitives.

Still at large was Fred D. Hills, 28, of Elyria, charged with entering a woman's home with intent to rape.

9 Indonesians Killed As Ships Are Blasted

SINGAPORE (AP) — Malaysian and British patrol ships blasted four Indonesian raiding ships out of the water Friday and killed nine Indonesians, a Malaysian defense ministry spokesman announced.

Nine other Indonesians were captured. A British navy seaman was killed and seven other Britons were wounded, the spokesman said.

He said the captured Indonesians appeared to be drugged. They were carrying narcotics in small bags hanging around their necks, he said.

The raiding party's target was Singapore's main power station and British air force installations, the spokesman said.

The foreign ministers of African and Asian countries were scheduled to hold a preliminary meeting today. It was not known whether they would be able to use the damaged structure 12 miles west of Algiers.

Armed security forces ringed the conference site after the blast and about 20 Egyptian workmen were detained.

There was considerable doubt the conference would go on as scheduled next Tuesday. There were new anti-government demonstrations Friday night and a sense of general unrest prevailed.

An underground "Popular Liberation Movement" circulated tracts calling for a nationwide general strike on the eve of the conference "to prove to the delegations that we will not tolerate the tyrant Houari Boumedienne."

Boumedienne was the defense minister in the Cabinet of President Ahmed Ben Bella. He seized power a week ago and had Ben Bella arrested as a traitor.

Demonstrations against Boumedienne have taken place almost nightly since the coup. Steel-helmeted police fired warning shots in the air and flung tear gas grenades Friday night at hundreds of demonstrators who marched through the streets chanting "Long live Ben Bella" and "Boumedienne to the gallows."

Deadline Now Set July 15

City To Hold Line On Cost Of Summer Street Work

The administration and Council have agreed to hold the line on the price to householders for the annual low - cost summer street improvement projects and the deadline for applications has been extended from next Wednesday until July 15.

Following the pattern used in the last two or three years, the cost to householders who petition for the program will be determined by multiplying the width of the street by the figure one cent, then multiplying that result by the length of the affected stretch, as expressed in feet.

For instance, if the street to be improved is 20 feet wide, the first step in arriving at a price is to multiply the width times the figure, one cent, giving a cost of 20 cents per lineal foot. Then, if the stretch to be improved is 100 feet long, the overall cost is determined by multiplying the cost per foot by the length, which in this case shows the price would be $20.

The cost per lineal foot determined by the city's formula is the price for the property-owners on each side of a stretch to be improved.

For instance, in the example cited, the cost for improving a 20-foot wide street for a distance of 100 feet would be $20 for the property - owner on the north side of the street and the other on the south side.

The formula was explained today by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, who said the decision to hold the line on

One Escapee Still At Large In Jail Break

Fourth Gives Self Up At Cleveland In Flight From Elyria

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 24-year-old jail escapee walked into central police station about midnight Friday night, leaving only one man still free from the band of five who broke out of the Lorain County jail Thursday night.

A few hours earlier he had eluded a 12-man police chase on the West Side. Police said they fired one shot at Fay.

Fay had been in jail on charges of grand larceny and breaking and entering.

Earlier three other escapees were returned to the jail.

Charles Twyman, 18, charged with burglary and grand larcent, and Le Roy Schart, 19, charged with rape and parole violation, were arrested near Steubenville Friday. Both are from Elyria.

Carl R. Mahaffey, 25, of Elyria, charged with intent to defraud, was arrested in Lakewood early Friday morning on charges of being a "suspicious person." He admitted under questioning that he was one of the fugitives.

Still at large was Fred D. Hills, 28, of Elyria, charged with entering a woman's home with intent to rape.

9 Indonesians Killed As Ships Are Blasted

SINGAPORE (AP) — Malaysian and British patrol ships blasted four Indonesian raiding ships out of the water Friday and killed nine Indonesians, a Malaysian defense ministry spokesman announced.

Nine other Indonesians were captured. A British navy seaman was killed and seven other Britons were wounded, the spokesman said.

He said the captured Indonesians appeared to be drugged. They were carrying narcotics in small bags hanging around their necks, he said.

Lake Group Will Present Case Monday

The hearing was continued from Thursday when a delegation from the Highlandtown area appeared to protest the vacating of two roads necessary for the project.

Ned Williams and Harry Logan of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources were on hand Thursday to brief those present on progress of the planning.

Williams, from his office in Columbus Friday, warned that a delay in vacating the roads could mean that the lake could be held up for possibly a year or two, with funds earmarked for its construction being used elsewhere in the state. A contract for construction of the lake dam is scheduled to be awarded next week.

Man, Wife Bound Over In 'Pill' Case

Raymond Fullum and his wife, Mary Ann Fullum, owners of the Country Cottage Truck Stop on Cove Hill Rd., were bound over to the fall term of the Hancock County grand jury in a hearing yesterday conducted by Squire Thomas Bellanco. They posted $2,000 bond each.

The pair, along with three waitresses at the establishment, were arrested Thursday night in a raid by Weirton police who had received a tip that truck drivers were being sold so-called "pep pills."

The three waitresses — Martha Highley, Sylvia Brandt and Rita Jean Shreves, all of Weirton — also were bound over. They posted $1,000 bond each.

The raid was the second such operation in West Virginia since the 1965 legislature passed a stringent law limiting the sale of drugs.

Under the new law, the sale or possession of barbiturates is classed as a felony punishable by a term of 1 to 5 years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

The first raid was conducted several weeks ago in Huntington.

Area Woman, Two Children Hurt In Crash

A Wellsville area woman and her two small children were injured when their car struck a power pole on the Old Salineville Rd., three-tenths a mile west of Wellsville, Friday at 6:45 p.m.

Mrs. Joyce Householder, 26, of Wellsville R.D. 1 lost control of the 1963 compact on a curve. It went off the right side of the highway and rammed a utility pole. The vehicle was demolished, according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon. Mrs. Householder said her brakes failed.

She was treated at Osteopathic Hospital for lacerations of the right knee and multiple abrasions of the leg. A daughter, Carla Sue Householder, 3, suffered lacerations of the scalp and face and an injury to the right knee, while a son, Brian Charles Householder, 6, suffered the loss of two front teeth.

They were taken to the hospital by a passerby, according to the patrol.

GOP Leader Urges North Viet Blockade

WASHINGTON (AP)— House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan called today for a naval blockade of North Viet Nam and "a mighty United States military air offensive" against Communist strength in both North and South Viet Nam.

Ford said in a statement the Johnson administration should unleash devastating air and sea power against all significant military targets in North Viet Nam.

He recommended that President Johnson "harden the U. S. attitude toward North Viet Nam, including full scale air attacks on all significant Viet Cong military targets and a naval quarantine to cut off delivery of arms and supplies by sea."

Ford said the execution this week of Army Sgt. Harold George Bennett, the threat to kill more prisoners, the reign of terror against innocent victims in South Viet Nam and the constant rebuffing of peace attempts revealed the Communist intention for conquest without regard for human life.

Girl, 4, Runs In Car's Path

A 4-year-old Sophia St. youngster escaped with contusions of the upper left leg Friday night after she darted into the path of a car on Minerva St. and then ran home, where she was located by the motorist.

Patrolman L. E. Richard, who had just completed a call at Minerva and Cadmus Sts., was an eyewitness to the mishap in which Candy Biro, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Biro, 707 Sophia St., was knocked down by a station wagon operated by John N. Siddall, 65, of 815 Illinois Ave.

Siddall said he was driving slowly east on Minerva St. because people were leaving the First Church of the Nazarene. As he reached Sophia St., the child ran in front of his car and was knocked down by the left front.

She jumped up and ran up Sophia St. He stopped his car and went in search of her, finding the youngster at home, Siddall said. She was taken to City Hospital by an aunt and uncle and X-rayed and released.

Richard said he was in the cruiser and was looking into the rear view mirror for approaching traffic when he saw the girl dart from the south side of Minerva St. into the path of the auto.

Siddall's auto jerked as he applied his brakes, but the girl was knocked to the pavement and then fled toward home.

Wilbur Wolf of McCoy Ave. also was listed as a witness to the mishap, police said.

the price of the improvement program was reached in a meeting with the Council street committee, comprised of Floyd Murray, chairman, Donald Hancock and James Cunningham.

The decision to extend the deadline was made because the administration felt householders would not have sufficient time to circulate and file petitions for the improvements by Wednesday, Vodrey said. Many were holding back on circulating petitions until they learned the cost of the improvement, he said.

The director pointed out the same formula can be followed to determine the cost of any contemplated low -cost black - top project — multiplying the width by the length and using that figure as expressed in dollars and cents as the share of the property - owners on both sides of a given street.

The city will pay more than 50 per cent of the cost of the program, as it has each summer. It contributes an amount equal to the property - owners' share for each street, plus the full cost of paving intersections. The city's share is paid out of income tax revenue.

Akronite To Face Check Charges, Parole Violation

LISBON — An Akron man is being held today after failure to make a $2,500 bond on a federal charge of parole violation.

George M. Gaines, 36, was arraigned Friday night before Thomas Moore, U. S. commissioner at Youngstown. He allegedly altered an American Express money order check from $4 to $40 at Canton in November 1964.

He was picked up by Chief Roy Keister of Salineville, who filed a charge in the Southwest Area Court of altering another American Express money order and endeavoring to pass it in Salineville.

Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis questioned Gaines and the FBI was called.

He is being held in Cuyahoga county jail on the federal charge. The hearing in the county court has not been set.

The Abacus

Reporters presented the astronauts with one of the ancient calculating devices after the Gemini 4 flight. The gift abacus is boxed in a glass-covered frame with a little red hammer attached. It bears a sign: "In case of emergency, break glass."

The gift was prompted by a malfunction in a Gemini electronic computer, a $1.4 million device that was supposed to help steer the spacecraft back to earth but did not perform properly.

The abacus is so simple it can't break down, though it may become unstrung. It consists of a framework of parallel rods or wires carrying sliding beads as counters.

A horizontal line separates the abacus into two sections. Beads in the upper section have a value of five; in the lower section, a value of one. Vertical rods represent units, tens, hundreds, thousands, and so on. To add and subtract, beads are pushed up or down to the crossbar where they are read by number and position. Techniques for multiplying and dividing are more complicated.

The abacus is widely used throughout the Far East. The beads can be heard clattering away in hole-in-the-wall shops, luxury hotels and modern banks. An accountant in a Japanese bank may sit with an adding machine at one elbow and an abacus at the other.

Area Woman, Two Children Hurt In Crash

A Wellsville area woman and her two small children were injured when their car struck a power pole on the Old Salineville Rd., three-tenths a mile west of Wellsville, Friday at 6:45 p.m.

Mrs. Joyce Householder, 26, of Wellsville R.D. 1 lost control of the 1963 compact on a curve. It went off the right side of the highway and rammed a utility pole. The vehicle was demolished, according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon. Mrs. Householder said her brakes failed.

She was treated at Osteopathic Hospital for lacerations of the right knee and multiple abrasions of the leg. A daughter, Carla Sue Householder, 3, suffered lacerations of the scalp and face and an injury to the right knee, while a son, Brian Charles Householder, 6, suffered the loss of two front teeth.

They were taken to the hospital by a passerby, according to the patrol.

Akronite To Face Check Charges, Parole Violation

LISBON — An Akron man is being held today after failure to make a $2,500 bond on a federal charge of parole violation.

George M. Gaines, 36, was arraigned Friday night before Thomas Moore, U. S. commissioner at Youngstown. He allegedly altered an American Express money order check from $4 to $40 at Canton in November 1964.

He was picked up by Chief Roy Keister of Salineville, who filed a charge in the Southwest Area Court of altering another American Express money order and endeavoring to pass it in Salineville.

Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis questioned Gaines and the FBI was called.

He is being held in Cuyahoga county jail on the federal charge. The hearing in the county court has not been set.

The Abacus

Reporters presented the astronauts with one of the ancient calculating devices after the Gemini 4 flight. The gift abacus is boxed in a glass-covered frame with a little red hammer attached. It bears a sign: "In case of emergency, break glass."

The gift was prompted by a malfunction in a Gemini electronic computer, a $1.4 million device that was supposed to help steer the spacecraft back to earth but did not perform properly.

The abacus is so simple it can't break down, though it may become unstrung. It consists of a framework of parallel rods or wires carrying sliding beads as counters.

A horizontal line separates the abacus into two sections. Beads in the upper section have a value of five; in the lower section, a value of one. Vertical rods represent units, tens, hundreds, thousands, and so on. To add and subtract, beads are pushed up or down to the crossbar where they are read by number and position. Techniques for multiplying and dividing are more complicated.

The abacus is widely used throughout the Far East. The beads can be heard clattering away in hole-in-the-wall shops, luxury hotels and modern banks. An accountant in a Japanese bank may sit with an adding machine at one elbow and an abacus at the other.

Murder Count Sought In Case At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lt. Carl Delau, head of the Cleveland police homicide unit, says he will seek first-degree murder charges against two men arrested in the death of Robert W. Burke.

Mr. Brown, Not Wife, Drove Car In Mishap

The Hancock County sheriff's office reported today that Lester Norwood Brown, husband of Mrs. Marion L. Brown, 47, of Laurel Heights, Chester, was the driver of the auto which went over an embankment between Waterford Park Rd. and Middle Run Rd. Thursday.

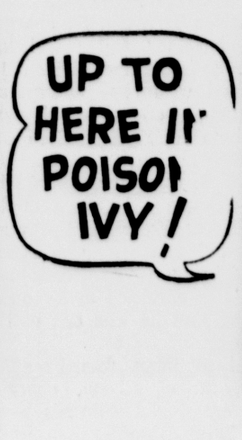

It had been reported earlier that Mrs. Brown was operating the vehicle.

Truckers Call Off Strike In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Striking teamsters voted today an immediate end of their six-day wildcat strike that crippled delivery of food, drugs and other general merchandise in the nation's fourth largest city.

Approximately 5,000 of the 13,000 member Local 107 of the Teamsters approved by voice vote a recommendation of their leaders that they return to work. There were some scattered shouts of "no."

The men were summoned to the general meeting after Judge Leo Weinrott Friday cited 17 of the locals' leaders for contempt of court for disobeying an injunction ordering the strikers to return to work hours after the walkout began last Monday.

Michael Hession, the local's secretary-treasurer, told the men, "I have to declare the holiday is over and everybody go back to work immediately."

The walkout was started by the local in support of four platform workers fired by Roadway Express, Inc. The Teamsters demanded that the four men be rehired.

Hession said the strike must end without the four Roadway Express workers getting back their jobs.

Negotiations Slated In Ohio Gas Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Representatives of East Ohio Gas Co. and the Natural Gas Workers Union meet today for the first time since June 18 in an attempt to end an 11-day-old strike.

The meeting was called by the Federal Mediation Service.

Some 600 members of the union voted unanimously Friday night to support the union's executive committee on issues involved in the strike.

Kroger Co. Reports Increase In Income

CINCINNATI (AP) — Net income of $13,149,053 for the first 24 weeks of this year was reported Friday by the Kroger Co. grocery chain firm. It was an increase of $1,754,323 over the same period last year.

The income was worth $1.01 a share of common stock compared with 86 cents a share in 1964. Sales for the 24 weeks were $1,129,203,467, a 7 per cent increase over the 1964 total of $1,053,877,155.

The 16th Amendment to the Constitution, adopted in 1913, started our present income tax system.

Mother, 18, Sentenced In Death Of Her Baby

CINCINNATI (AP) — An 18-year-old mother was sentenced Friday to six months in the workhouse following conviction of child neglect in the starving death of her baby.

Sentenced was Anna Gay McNeely. Her baby, Theodore, seven weeks old, died June 15. The child weighed only six pounds, one less than at birth. The coroner's office said the baby died of malnutrition.

'Rolloff' Slated In Midland Race

Pending further appeals, a rolloff of the dice, apparently will be used to determine the winner of a borough council post in Midland, following a ruling by the Beaver County Court Friday on a disputed ballot.

Following a recount of the 4th precinct called for by Leonard Ware, he and Clem J. Newtz Jr. finished with a tie vote of 677 each for the fourth council post on the Democratic ticket.

After the recount, Ware charged that the special board appointed for the recount "acted improperly in disallowing one ballot to be counted because of an alleged marking at the bottom of the ballot," and asked for a hearing to determine its validity.

At the hearing Friday afternoon, Judge Morgan H. Sohn threw out the disputed ballot because of the marking, which he said could be used to identify the voter, and also threw out a petition of Newtz, asking for a recount of the recount.

Chester Residents Warned On Licenses

The deadline for obtaining Chester city driver's license is just three days away, Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, reminded residents today.

The new licenses must be obtained by Wednesday. No extension will be granted, he said.

To date, 450 out of 1,730 prospective drivers have gotten the $2 license, he said. They may be obtained daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at City Hall.

Chance Eyed By GOP To Nip Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans see a chance of snapping President Johnson's impressive string of legislative victories when the House votes, probably late next week, on a $5.5-billion housing bill.

They are not opposing the whole complex measure, which would continue existing housing programs and innovate some others. But they think they have found a vulnerable target in a proposed new program to subsidize the rent payments of some families above the lowest income level, as well as some now eligible for public housing.

Republican critics contend this section is so loosely written that it would be theoretically possible for the government to pay $800 a month to set up a qualifying family in a penthouse.

Backers of the bill say such charges are absurd and that the measure would benefit a segment of the population previous housing programs have not reached — and at the same time encourage private enterprise to build more homes.

Republicans are making no victory claims, but have high hopes. One, who declined to be quoted by name, said, "All our checks indicate a very close vote. We will lose very few of our people on this one — fewer than on any previous test. Of course, the big question is how many Democrats will come over to our side."

There is evidence of some uneasiness among Democrats about the provision, under which the government could pay part of the rent for families in moderate or low cost housing built by such organizations as churches, labor unions, or limited-dividend corporations.

The test would be whether the family could obtain suitable housing for not more than 25 per cent of its income.

The subsidy would be the difference between 25 per cent of income and the amount judged necessary. Thus a family with a $4,000 income that could not be adequately housed for less than $1,500 a year could be eligible for a $500 subsidy.

The House is scheduled to begin debate on its version of the measure Tuesday and continue at least two days.

Hearing Will Be Held In Chester Accident

Chester police reported this morning that a 1964 auto driven by Joseph Hayes, 45, of New Kensington, Pa., struck the rear of a 1963 sedan operated by Robert Ryan, 39, of Georgetown R. D. 1 Friday night as the two vehicles were heading east on Route 30 near the Pyramus Ave. intersection.

Hayes was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control by Audley Campbell, investigating patrolman. He is due a hearing before Mayor Harry Abrams July 6 at 7 p. m.

The mishap occurred about 10:15 p.m.

Damage to the two vehicles was described as moderate.

SUMMER AND YOUR SEPTIC TANK

Surprising though it may seem, summer with its sunshine and showers, is just about the most critical time of the year for owners of septic tanks.

To correctly understand the aforementioned statement it is first necessary to analyze the workings of septic tanks, and the effect of seasonal changes.

Your septic tank is a chamber wherein exists a complex of micro - organisms, each type equipped to handle and dispose of different types of waste material. Working as a team, these infinitesimal forms of life break down and liquefy the solids, leaving only a liquid which is free to run out for final disposal in your drainfield or drywell. Regularly activated, these living "garbage disposals" will normally keep up with the flow of waste, and your system will function properly. However, surveys show that during the summer season, more systems "back-up" and overflow than at any other time of year, creating expensive and highly unsanitary conditions.

WHY ? ? ?

The answer to that question is simply "temperature". Bacterial life dislikes temperature changes, and, since your septic tank has no heating system to keep things cozy so that they can go about their work in comfort, they die off in the millions and billions when winter arrives, leaving only a "Skeleton crew" of weakened bacteria to handle the heavy loads. Consequently, as winter months pass slowly by, a build-up of undigested grease and solids occurs, clogging the tank and passing through to the disposal fields. Grease congeals and deposits in the pores of the soil, almost to the point of being beyond repair. Melting ice, snow, and showers add to the problem by increasing the amount of water entering the system.

How Sea-Cal Enzymes Help

The powerful digestive powers of the enzymes contained in SEA-CAL rapidly liquefy the hard grease packs in the septic tanks and drainfields, changing such grease and other solids into available food for the bacteria. SEA-CAL also contains 80,000,000 anerobic bacteria per gram (28 grams in each ounce), and with each bacteria reproducing itself many times a day, the micro-organism population is rapidly built up to the adequate numbers, with the ultimate return of full operating efficiency.

IMPORTANT ! ! ! ! !

FOR THE BEST PROTECTION DURING SUMMER, DOUBLE YOUR SEA-CAL TREATMENTS. PARTICULARLY WHERE TANKS ARE UNDERSIZE OR ARE SUBJECT TO OVERLOADS AND/OR AMOUNTS OF DETERGENTS AND BLEACHES.

Insects AND YOUR HEALTH

BEETLES

There are beatles and there are beetles. As you may well guess, we are not talking about the singing variety today. We are talking about the saw-toothed grain beetle that is found throughout the world. This beetle infests such foods as flour, grains, breakfast cereals, dried fruits, dried meats, tobacco, chocolate and almost all plant products used for human food.

THE IDENTITY

Beetles are not hard to identify. The adults are small, brownish, flattened and about 1/10 inch long. This beetle has six sawtooth like projections on each side of the thorax. It has been known to live longer than three years. The eggs are laid on or near food and hatch in three to seventeen days.

CONTROL

For satisfactory control, it is necessary to clean up all loose food materials and debris which may harbor these insects. Any infested stored materials must be removed from the premises since insects inside stored materials cannot be controlled without fumigation. Considerable care should be exercised in applying chemicals for the control of grain beetles. It is essential that insecticides be kept from direct contact with food products.

LET US DO IT

At FISHER PEST CONTROL we are experienced in the control of beetles, rats, roaches, silverfish, ants and all other kinds of household pests. We invite you to call us at FUlton 5-5720 and let us give your home a free analysis.

Recuperates At Home

Daniel Stacey, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stacey of the Bloomfield Rd., is recuperating at home from head and shoulder injuries received Thursday night when he fell from a pony. Daniel was treated at City Hospital following the accident. His name was incorrectly given as David Stacey Friday.

Births Reported

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mooney of New Cumberland R. D. 2, a son, June 26, at City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Willshaw of Hubbard, Ohio, a daughter, Cynthia Ann, June 22, at Northside Hospital, Youngstown. Willshaw is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Willshaw of Idaho Ave.

Pfc. and Mrs. James E. Cochran of Colorado Springs, Colo., a daughter, Lisa Kay, June 25, at the base hospital there. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Martin of McKee St. are the maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Cochran of Oak St. the paternal grandparents.

With The Patients

David Kane, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kane of 2720 St. Clair Ave., is recuperating at home following a tonsillectomy Wednesday at City Hospital.

Mrs. Mary Hogue, 88, of Toronto, a former Hammondsville resident, underwent surgery Friday at Ohio Valley Hospital, Steubenville.

Miss Connie Justice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Justice of Smiths Ferry, R. D. 1, is a patient at Beaver Valley General Hospital, New Brighton.

Frances Marie DeSenze, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeSenze of 1225 Parshall Place, Hillcrest, is a patient at City Hospital.

Truckers Call Off Strike In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Striking teamsters voted today an immediate end of their six-day wildcat strike that crippled delivery of food, drugs and other general merchandise in the nation's fourth largest city.

Approximately 5,000 of the 13,000 member Local 107 of the Teamsters approved by voice vote a recommendation of their leaders that they return to work. There were some scattered shouts of "no."

The men were summoned to the general meeting after Judge Leo Weinrott Friday cited 17 of the locals' leaders for contempt of court for disobeying an injunction ordering the strikers to return to work hours after the walkout began last Monday.

Michael Hession, the local's secretary-treasurer, told the men, "I have to declare the holiday is over and everybody go back to work immediately."

The walkout was started by the local in support of four platform workers fired by Roadway Express, Inc. The Teamsters demanded that the four men be rehired.

Hession said the strike must end without the four Roadway Express workers getting back their jobs.

Negotiations Slated In Ohio Gas Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Representatives of East Ohio Gas Co. and the Natural Gas Workers Union meet today for the first time since June 18 in an attempt to end an 11-day-old strike.

The meeting was called by the Federal Mediation Service.

Some 600 members of the union voted unanimously Friday night to support the union's executive committee on issues involved in the strike.

Kroger Co. Reports Increase In Income

CINCINNATI (AP) — Net income of $13,149,053 for the first 24 weeks of this year was reported Friday by the Kroger Co. grocery chain firm. It was an increase of $1,754,323 over the same period last year.

The income was worth $1.01 a share of common stock compared with 86 cents a share in 1964. Sales for the 24 weeks were $1,129,203,467, a 7 per cent increase over the 1964 total of $1,053,877,155.

The 16th Amendment to the Constitution, adopted in 1913, started our present income tax system.

Mother, 18, Sentenced In Death Of Her Baby

CINCINNATI (AP) — An 18-year-old mother was sentenced Friday to six months in the workhouse following conviction of child neglect in the starving death of her baby.

Sentenced was Anna Gay McNeely. Her baby, Theodore, seven weeks old, died June 15. The child weighed only six pounds, one less than at birth. The coroner's office said the baby died of malnutrition.

'Rolloff' Slated In Midland Race

Pending further appeals, a rolloff of the dice, apparently will be used to determine the winner of a borough council post in Midland, following a ruling by the Beaver County Court Friday on a disputed ballot.

Following a recount of the 4th precinct called for by Leonard Ware, he and Clem J. Newtz Jr. finished with a tie vote of 677 each for the fourth council post on the Democratic ticket.

After the recount, Ware charged that the special board appointed for the recount "acted improperly in disallowing one ballot to be counted because of an alleged marking at the bottom of the ballot," and asked for a hearing to determine its validity.

At the hearing Friday afternoon, Judge Morgan H. Sohn threw out the disputed ballot because of the marking, which he said could be used to identify the voter, and also threw out a petition of Newtz, asking for a recount of the recount.

Chester Residents Warned On Licenses

The deadline for obtaining Chester city driver's license is just three days away, Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, reminded residents today.

The new licenses must be obtained by Wednesday. No extension will be granted, he said.

To date, 450 out of 1,730 prospective drivers have gotten the $2 license, he said. They may be obtained daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at City Hall.

Chance Eyed By GOP To Nip Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans see a chance of snapping President Johnson's impressive string of legislative victories when the House votes, probably late next week, on a $5.5-billion housing bill.

They are not opposing the whole complex measure, which would continue existing housing programs and innovate some others. But they think they have found a vulnerable target in a proposed new program to subsidize the rent payments of some families above the lowest income level, as well as some now eligible for public housing.

Republican critics contend this section is so loosely written that it would be theoretically possible for the government to pay $800 a month to set up a qualifying family in a penthouse.

Backers of the bill say such charges are absurd and that the measure would benefit a segment of the population previous housing programs have not reached — and at the same time encourage private enterprise to build more homes.

Republicans are making no victory claims, but have high hopes. One, who declined to be quoted by name, said, "All our checks indicate a very close vote. We will lose very few of our people on this one — fewer than on any previous test. Of course, the big question is how many Democrats will come over to our side."

There is evidence of some uneasiness among Democrats about the provision, under which the government could pay part of the rent for families in moderate or low cost housing built by such organizations as churches, labor unions, or limited-dividend corporations.

The test would be whether the family could obtain suitable housing for not more than 25 per cent of its income.

The subsidy would be the difference between 25 per cent of income and the amount judged necessary. Thus a family with a $4,000 income that could not be adequately housed for less than $1,500 a year could be eligible for a $500 subsidy.

The House is scheduled to begin debate on its version of the measure Tuesday and continue at least two days.

Hearing Will Be Held In Chester Accident

Chester police reported this morning that a 1964 auto driven by Joseph Hayes, 45, of New Kensington, Pa., struck the rear of a 1963 sedan operated by Robert Ryan, 39, of Georgetown R. D. 1 Friday night as the two vehicles were heading east on Route 30 near the Pyramus Ave. intersection.

Hayes was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control by Audley Campbell, investigating patrolman. He is due a hearing before Mayor Harry Abrams July 6 at 7 p. m.

The mishap occurred about 10:15 p.m.

Damage to the two vehicles was described as moderate.

SUMMER AND YOUR SEPTIC TANK

Surprising though it may seem, summer with its sunshine and showers, is just about the most critical time of the year for owners of septic tanks.

To correctly understand the aforementioned statement it is first necessary to analyze the workings of septic tanks, and the effect of seasonal changes.

Your septic tank is a chamber wherein exists a complex of micro - organisms, each type equipped to handle and dispose of different types of waste material. Working as a team, these infinitesimal forms of life break down and liquefy the solids, leaving only a liquid which is free to run out for final disposal in your drainfield or drywell. Regularly activated, these living "garbage disposals" will normally keep up with the flow of waste, and your system will function properly. However, surveys show that during the summer season, more systems "back-up" and overflow than at any other time of year, creating expensive and highly unsanitary conditions.

WHY ? ? ?

The answer to that question is simply "temperature". Bacterial life dislikes temperature changes, and, since your septic tank has no heating system to keep things cozy so that they can go about their work in comfort, they die off in the millions and billions when winter arrives, leaving only a "Skeleton crew" of weakened bacteria to handle the heavy loads. Consequently, as winter months pass slowly by, a build-up of undigested grease and solids occurs, clogging the tank and passing through to the disposal fields. Grease congeals and deposits in the pores of the soil, almost to the point of being beyond repair. Melting ice, snow, and showers add to the problem by increasing the amount of water entering the system.

How Sea-Cal Enzymes Help

The powerful digestive powers of the enzymes contained in SEA-CAL rapidly liquefy the hard grease packs in the septic tanks and drainfields, changing such grease and other solids into available food for the bacteria. SEA-CAL also contains 80,000,000 anerobic bacteria per gram (28 grams in each ounce), and with each bacteria reproducing itself many times a day, the micro-organism population is rapidly built up to the adequate numbers, with the ultimate return of full operating efficiency.

IMPORTANT ! ! ! ! !

FOR THE BEST PROTECTION DURING SUMMER, DOUBLE YOUR SEA-CAL TREATMENTS. PARTICULARLY WHERE TANKS ARE UNDERSIZE OR ARE SUBJECT TO OVERLOADS AND/OR AMOUNTS OF DETERGENTS AND BLEACHES.

Insects AND YOUR HEALTH

BEETLES

There are beatles and there are beetles. As you may well guess, we are not talking about the singing variety today. We are talking about the saw-toothed grain beetle that is found throughout the world. This beetle infests such foods as flour, grains, breakfast cereals, dried fruits, dried meats, tobacco, chocolate and almost all plant products used for human food.

THE IDENTITY

Beetles are not hard to identify. The adults are small, brownish, flattened and about 1/10 inch long. This beetle has six saw-tooth like projections on each side of the thorax. It has been known to live longer than three years. The eggs are laid on or near food and hatch in three to seventeen days.

CONTROL

For satisfactory control, it is necessary to clean up all loose food materials and debris which may harbor these insects. Any infested stored materials must be removed from the premises since insects inside stored materials cannot be controlled without fumigation. Considerable care should be exercised in applying chemicals for the control of grain beetles. It is essential that insecticides be kept from direct contact with food products.

LET US DO IT

At FISHER PEST CONTROL we are experienced in the control of beetles, rats, roaches, silverfish, ants and all other kinds of household pests. We invite you to call us at FUlton 5-5720 and let us give your home a free analysis.

The Lake Could Be Lost

Just when everything appeared ready to go—with a contract for construction of the dam scheduled to be awarded next week—there now is danger that Columbiana County may lose the 170-acre lake planned as part of the Highlandtown Wildlife Area.

The snag developed rather unexpectedly Thursday when a delegation from the area concerned appeared before the county commissioners at Lisbon to protest the vacating of two roads necessary to the project.

NED WILLIAMS and Harry Logan of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources at Columbus were on hand Thursday to brief those present on developments and it was Williams' office which Friday sounded the warning that any delay by the commissioners in vacating the roads could mean the loss of the lake for possibly two years at the least.

It was pointed out that other areas are clamoring for funds for similar recreational projects and if Columbiana County doesn't act now the money available could be channeled elsewhere.

From what we could learn in a quick survey — necessitated by the urgency of the matter — vacating of the land in question would not create an undue hardship on those opposing it, although such action always is regrettable.

If the contract is awarded now as planned, ground could be broken this summer, with construction of the dam expected to require a year.

The Ohio Wildlife Division has acquired 1,975 acres of ground in the Highlandtown area since 1956 for public hunting and fishing. A total of $156,000 was spent in the 1957-58 biennium and $175,000 more was spent in 1963-64.

AND JUST this week, $130,000 more was made available in Ohio Assembly action for construction of various facilities needed to further develop the area.

The wildlife area is off Route 39, between Wellsville and Salineville at the village of Highlandtown. The dam for the lake would be west of what now is known as Chettle's Lake on Little Yellow Creek.

The lake would provide the area with a major recreation facility that would tie in nicely with that phase of Gov. James A. Rhodes program to make the "Wonderful State of Ohio" even more wonderful.

Were a consensus available, we feel certain that a great majority of county residents would be in favor of getting the lake now in comparison with the small minority fighting it.

This should be kept in mind by the commissioners as they prepare their decision.

No Boycott Of Medicare

It was a relief for all of us who respect our physicians for their skill and professional devotion to their patients when the American Medical Association rejected proposals for a medicare boycott.

A boycott would have done AMA no credit and would have deepened public puzzlement over the assertion by some members of the medical profession that medicare will lower the standards of medical service; that it is a plot to socialize the profession.

Doctors who talk this way seem to have learned something about medicare's impact on their profession that the general public isn't aware of. How could the medical profession's standards be lowered by a system of helping Americans pay the ever-increasing cost of illness? How could doctors be socialized as long as they continue to work for their patients, not for the government?

Until medical science made sensational progress, the cost of illness was not a looming problem. But as the span of life lengthened and millions of us who once would have worked up to the time of death lived on into retirement years, deprived of earning power but still with heavy obligations, the cost of illness became frightening. It frightened not only the elderly but their families, who could be financially swamped by the expenses of a long illness.

This is why the problem drew political attention—because it was of general public concern. The oddity of the issue that developed over it was the fact it was not doctor bills but hospital bills that most people worried about yet it was the American Medical Association that took up the cudgel to oppose what now is going through Congress in the name of "medicare."

We believe the medical profession will learn to work with a medicare program the same as its members learned to work with Blue Cross, Blue Shield and all other programs to underwrite the cost of illness. We cannot conceive of anything that could lower the quality of medical care unless medical practitioners changed their professional standards.

Those of us who respect our physicians for their competence and dedication cannot conceive of that. We have implicit confidence in the profession's ability to keep its standards high and wish medical practitioners would have similar confidence in the people's ability to underwrite the cost of hospital care and medical service.

The Birds And The Bees

One of the first witnesses before a Senate committee hearing on a proposal to let the federal government disseminate birth control information went straight to the heart of this touchy issue.

Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., said he had learned as a member of the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia that many women who had borne illegitimate children did not know the first facts about conception.

The problem they had created for themselves and the society in which they lived was caused by ignorance.

Ignorance is the heart of the problem wherever it exists. In the absence of knowledge, human beings have children they do not want and cannot afford to take care of. Where the problem is most acute, in tragically overpopulated countries like India, human ignorance is so pervasive that attempts to reduce the birth rate would have to start with basic education.

In more advanced countries, like the United States, merely making available the knowledge necessary to forestall overpopulation would be enough. No one is suggesting or even thinking about going against religious precepts. The purpose of public dissemination of birth control information would be only to make it available to persons ignorant of the subject.

It would authorize government to do what hasn't been done by parents who didn't carry out the parental obligation to tell their children about the birds and bees. Some failed because they didn't know.

Ignorance is the cardinal cause of rising concern about a world population exposion. Overcome ignorance and the world population explosion would succumb to the resultant human restraint.

Out Of Order

By Truman Twill

In all the information about the late Bernard M. Baruch, nothing interested me more than the way he used his hearing aid.

As the great speculator and adviser grew older, his deafness increased until he could hear nothing without the hearing aid.

He turned this handicap to his account by turning the device on and off to suit his convenience. If a conversation bored him, he turned it off.

If he wanted to avoid a conversation, he tapped his hearing aid with a finger and explained it was out of order.

This interested me, not because of its bearing on one man's problem of deafness but because of the possible application of the principle to my own problem, which is lack of memory.

No one puts a higher value on friendship and acquaintanceship than I do, but I am unable to remember who people are. I can remember what they are, where I met them, what they do, what they wore the last time I saw them and other things about them, but I cannot remember their names.

I frequently cannot remember their faces, either. I may know I have seen the faces before, but I cannot sort them out in a card-file memory the way other people can—Type 13-F face belonging to ebullient personality, last name Henderson, first name Arthur, lives in Chicago, formerly of Pittsburgh, wife's name Grace, two children both boys, likes football, works for Varoom Oil Co.

This is a constant embarrassment.

I have thought many times of the possibility of wearing tinted glasses and feigning faulty eyesight so no one would expect me to recognize them on sight.

It then would be incumbent on them to announce their names and get things off on the right foot, which some people have learned to do for my benefit anyway.

If everybody did it, there would be no more awkward sparring while I try to remember the name and they try to steer me to it, like the friend who recently rescued me with an anecdote about himself in which someone was so overjoyed to see him they cried out, "Elmer Gudensingle, is it ever good to see you again!"

By feigning blindness, I would have an edge. Everybody would tell me who everybody was and what was going on. And, like Bernard M. Baruch turning off his hearing aid to get rid of pests, I would have an excuse to close my eyes and quit looking when I was bored, as I always am in art galleries after the fifth nude.

The difficulty would be to feign blindness. It would take more than tinted glasses; everybody wears tinted glasses. So the idea isn't feasible. But it's appealing.

If only there were some way to tell the world about the handicap of nominative amnesia, which is inability to remember people's names and to put familiar faces and names together. Maybe a seeing-eye dog would be the answer.

"Sure I remember you. You're the abominable snowman. I'd recognize you anywhere! Bite 'im, Duke."

Still Tastes Awful, But . . .

Is House Dominated By Rural Bloc?

By William S. Vance

COLUMBUS

Cooled by apathy and impasse, reapportionment of the Ohio House of Representatives appears to be one of the deadest issues of this dying legislative session.

Except for a few exploratory conferences by Republican and Democratic leaders a few weeks ago, no serious attempt has been made to resolve the problem which was thrust back on the legislature with defeat of Issue No. 3 last May.

BUT THE question of rural domination of the House — which touched off the whole reapportionment struggle — is far from dead.

It is a question politicians and political scientists have been unable to resolve as conclusively as the courts have. Events of the last week help to show why.

On one hand, rural influence could be detected in both action and inaction in critical areas of county government.

On the other hand, the power of solidarity among the big-city delegations was demonstrated in a disruptive floor session on court legislation.

While it is true there have been few instances of rural bloc voting in the last decade, an area of influence often overlooked is the House Rules Committee which holds life-or-death judgment over all legislation.

Of 11 members on this committee, only 4 represent counties with more than 100,000 population.

THEORETICALLY, a majority vote of the committee either kills a bill or sends it to the House floor. But in practice, one or more members who harbor strong feelings against a bill can at least delay its arrival on the floor until death from natural causes is imminent.

Thus it is that a bill to require county commissioners to advertise for bids on purchases of $1,000 or more has been locked in the committee for six weeks.

The reason has been obvious. County commissioners have carried their strong objections to the committee members, particularly those from rural counties.

At the same time, a bill most commissioners would like to see become law is moving along greased skids, with much of the propulsion supplied by House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, who rules the Rules Committee.

Among other things, the bill would permit counties to adopt charters and assume the same revenue authority as home rule cities. This would include submitting the question of a county-wide income tax to the voters, with only a majority vote required for adoption.

THE BILL says no country could per-empt a city's income-taxing authority, but several urban representatives take a different view. They see the bill as one which could engender dangerous fiscal confusion that would play havoc with municipal financing.

Cloud has seen no merit to any objections thus far and has said the House should have a chance to vote on it. This is enough to guarantee the bill's appearance on the floor.

It would be unfair, however, to imply the Rules Committee balks at legislation beneficial to cities. There is no rural blockade in that respect just as surely as there was a metropolitan brigade at work during the row over expansion of common pleas courts.

The court bill, calling for additional judges in Summit and Medina counties, came to the floor after detailed examination by the House Judiciary Committee which denied requests for more judges in Cuyahoga and Hamilton counties.

CUYAHOGA, Hamilton and Lucas county delegations, totaling 31 members, banded together and began rewriting the bill with floor amendments.

In close voting, which carried with bipartisan metropolitan unity, Hamilton and Cuyahoga managed to get their judges into the bill.

This roughshod rejection of the committee's recommendations came as a blow to Judiciary Chairman Edmund James, R-Noble, who argued eloquently against the amendments. During the melee, James wondered aloud:

"If you are going to ignore all our recommendations, what purpose does the committee serve? Why are we here?"

At this point, Cloud returned after an absence from the rostrum in time to call for a vote on a Lucas County amendment. The Hamilton County delegation, led by Cloud's lieutenant, Robert Reckman, broke ranks and Lucas County was turned down.

Back in command, Cloud interrupted the session to call the Republicans into caucus. He announced upon return that under constitutional rules the bill required 92 votes to pass.

The vote came without debate and the bill lost by 6 votes.

Rural domination or big city boondoggling. You see enough of both here to know why the issue of reapportionment has become so mired in the legislative bog.

Renato Quintieri, a Christian Democrat deputy, asked in the lower house that Finance Minister Roberto Tremelloni state whether measures have been taken to guarantee the collection of taxes on the Beatles' Italian earnings—expected to be in the neighborhood of $100,000.

To the strains of "Auld Lang Syne," the old colors, presented by her when she was Britain's queen in 1939, were marched off for the last time.

NEW YORK (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, U.S. ambassador at large, says that criticism of the Johnson administration's foreign policy, especially in Viet Nam, has come from what he termed "bleeding hearts."

"If you listen to some of the bleeding hearts in this country," Harriman said, "you begin to think we started the troubles in the world instead of the Communists."

Mount Kennedy

Snow - covered Mount Kennedy looms up in stark, lonely splendor above the craggy tips of still unnamed mountains just east of the Alaskan border in the St. Elias Mountains, highest range in North America.

Mount Kennedy was discovered in 1935 by a National Geographic Society expedition. Its official height recently was determined by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey and the Canadian Department of Mining and Technical Surveys. They made a traverse survey extending from the Alcan Highway in Canada to Alaska's akutat Bay.

Surveyors anchored a bronze disk into the granite face of Mount Kennedy, 480 feet below the summit. The marker will serve as a fixed point for future mapping surveys there.

The geographic position of Mount Kennedy was fixed as follows: 60 degrees 20 minutes 28.2 seconds latitude and 138 degrees 58 minutes 02.6 seconds longitude. The bronze marker's exact position is 60 degrees 19 minutes 56.31 seconds latitude and 138 degrees 58 minutes 21.91 seconds longitude.

An Endurance Test

By David Lawrence

U.S. Must Reiterate Firm Viet Stand

The Viet Nam war is becoming a test of endurance. The Communists are sure the United States will falter and ultimately give in. They read in the American newspapers that many members of Congress are making speeches which can be interpreted as a desire for surrender. They see article after article proposing that the United States get out of Southeast Asia altogether.

David Lawrence

There is no doubt that wars are unpopular with the American people. No war has ever been entered with enthusiasm, but when the war gets under way there is usually a recognition that it is important to win victory in the shortest possible time.

Undermining the morale of the troops by casting doubt on the policies of one's own government in the middle of war can be tragic. That is why "free speech" is no excuse for giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

The most important task before the government today, therefore, is to convince the world that it does not intend to get out of Viet Nam until the main objective there has actually been achieved.

What is the objective? It's to make sure that the people of Viet Nam will be able to live their own lives without facing a Communist threat to take over their government and oppress them.

THE WORLD has witnessed the effects of surrender policies in the last 20 years. Eastern Europe is a living example of how the conqueror has come, retained complete control of the local governments, and made a mockery of the principle of self-determination. There was no effective response to such aggressive action. There was acquiescence instead.

Many Americans do not understand the relationship between a war in Viet Nam and their own lives. They are being told every day that wars in a far-distant land are of no importance to them and could just as well be ignored. Realistically, the armed services of the United States are still quartered in various parts of the world — not only in Southeast Asia but in Western Europe as well.

Certainly the tense situation surrounding the Berlin wall has been more publicized than the facts about Viet Nam. Aggression is better understood when it is explained in terms of what can happen in Europe if the United States withdraws its aid from its Western allies.

GREAT BRITAIN, moreover, is involved at the moment in helping to save Malaysia from the Communist intrigues engineered by Sukarno, the Indonesian leader.

There is trouble not only in the Middle East but in Africa. Indeed, throughout the world the danger spots are still numerous.

Yet the basic principles remain the same. If the United States gives up the fight and, as the most powerful nation in the world, withdraws from the contest, there will be more acts of aggression. Ultimately, Western Europe will be overrun and America will truly be plunged into a nuclear war.

The United States today stands guard in the Far East. It has, by resolution of Congress, announced that it will not permit Formosa to be invaded without coming to the defense of the Nationalist Chinese.

THE PHILIPPINES, Australia and Japan expect the United States to come to their rescue if there is a Communist attack.

The entire equilibrium, however, can be disturbed if the United States drops out of Viet Nam. So the problem now is to reiterate to the world that, even if it takes five years or 10 years, the United States intends to stay in Viet Nam until some way of maintaining peace has been found.

There isn't the slightest objection in theory to the use of the United Nations machinery to bring about a peaceful settlement. Also, the efforts being made by the British Commonwealth Conference of Nations are welcomed. The Communists will wish to extricate themselves when they realize that they cannot win the war.

The essential fact for peoples everywhere to understand is that the United States is determined to go through with its policy in Viet Nam and that it's resolved to win out against aggression.

IT ISN'T necessary for military operations to be extensive in order to accomplish that objective but it is necessary for such a strategy to be sustained at all costs.

It's all-important for the Communists to recognize that they can go no further with their world imperialism and that they had better stop interfering with the right of the smaller nations to govern themselves.

No more unselfish action has ever been taken by a major power than that of the United States in coming to the defense of a helpless people in a distant land such as Viet Nam, but behind the idealism is a realization that, unless these aggressions against small nations are checked, millions of people, including Americans, can be plunged into a disastrous war of mammoth proportions.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I have a complaint and would like to know what all the people who pay city income tax think about it.

Two years ago when the East End creek overflowed its banks I asked for help from quite a few city people. I was told all kind of things we could do. I have tried them all to no avail.

There is always some excuse or something to put you off for two or three months. Once I lost a washer, had to make repairs on a new gas furnace and a hot water tank. I paid them all.

I still asked Mr. Vodrey to do something about the bed of the creek that has built up so high by this time a small rain causes it to overflow. Now they need our consent to come on the property and dig the bed down. Everybody is willing to give their written consent. Still nothing is done.

Wednesday of this week the creek came within inches of coming over. I called the office, but Mr. Vodrey was not in. I would like to know what a person must do to get something done for the money you and lots of the people pay from their pays each time. If you don't pay the tax, you could go to jail.

I have talked with Mr. Murray, Mr. Vodrey and even Mr. Laughlin. They have the equipment, the consent and a way to get down into the creek. What else do they want or need?

Anybody who would have this in their basement and have to clean it up, only to have it come back again, plus repairs. It makes you wonder why you pay taxes.

The Lake Could Be Lost

Just when everything appeared ready to go—with a contract for construction of the dam scheduled to be awarded next week—there now is danger that Columbiana County may lose the 170-acre lake planned as part of the Highlandtown Wildlife Area.

The snag developed rather unexpectedly Thursday when a delegation from the area concerned appeared before the county commissioners at Lisbon to protest the vacating of two roads necessary to the project.

NED WILLIAMS and Harry Logan of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources at Columbus were on hand Thursday to brief those present on developments and it was Williams' office which Friday sounded the warning that any delay by the commissioners in vacating the roads could mean the loss of the lake for possibly two years at the least.

It was pointed out that other areas are clamoring for funds for similar recreational projects and if Columbiana County doesn't act now the money available could be channeled elsewhere.

From what we could learn in a quick survey — necessitated by the urgency of the matter — vacating of the land in question would not create an undue hardship on those opposing it, although such action always is regrettable.

If the contract is awarded now as planned, ground could be broken this summer, with construction of the dam expected to require a year.

The Ohio Wildlife Division has acquired 1,975 acres of ground in the Highlandtown area since 1956 for public hunting and fishing. A total of $156,000 was spent in the 1957-58 biennium and $175,000 more was spent in 1963-64.

AND JUST this week, $130,000 more was made available in Ohio Assembly action for construction of various facilities needed to further develop the area.

The wildlife area is off Route 39, between Wellsville and Salineville at the village of Highlandtown. The dam for the lake would be west of what now is known as Chettle's Lake on Little Yellow Creek.

The lake would provide the area with a major recreation facility that would tie in nicely with that phase of Gov. James A. Rhodes program to make the "Wonderful State of Ohio" even more wonderful.

Were a consensus available, we feel certain that a great majority of county residents would be in favor of getting the lake now in comparison with the small minority fighting it.

This should be kept in mind by the commissioners as they prepare their decision.

No Boycott Of Medicare

It was a relief for all of us who respect our physicians for their skill and professional devotion to their patients when the American Medical Association rejected proposals for a medicare boycott.

A boycott would have done AMA no credit and would have deepened public puzzlement over the assertion by some members of the medical profession that medicare will lower the standards of medical service; that it is a plot to socialize the profession.

Doctors who talk this way seem to have learned something about medicare's impact on their profession that the general public isn't aware of. How could the medical profession's standards be lowered by a system of helping Americans pay the ever-increasing cost of illness? How could doctors be socialized as long as they continue to work for their patients, not for the government?

Until medical science made sensational progress, the cost of illness was not a looming problem. But as the span of life lengthened and millions of us who once would have worked up to the time of death lived on into retirement years, deprived of earning power but still with heavy obligations, the cost of illness became frightening. It frightened not only the elderly but their families, who could be financially swamped by the expenses of a long illness.

This is why the problem drew political attention—because it was of general public concern. The oddity of the issue that developed over it was the fact it was not doctor bills but hospital bills that most people worried about yet it was the American Medical Association that took up the cudgel to oppose what now is going through Congress in the name of "medicare."

We believe the medical profession will learn to work with a medicare program the same as its members learned to work with Blue Cross, Blue Shield and all other programs to underwrite the cost of illness. We cannot conceive of anything that could lower the quality of medical care unless medical practitioners changed their professional standards.

Those of us who respect our physicians for their competence and dedication cannot conceive of that. We have implicit confidence in the profession's ability to keep its standards high and wish medical practitioners would have similar confidence in the people's ability to underwrite the cost of hospital care and medical service.

The Birds And The Bees

One of the first witnesses before a Senate committee hearing on a proposal to let the federal government disseminate birth control information went straight to the heart of this touchy issue.

Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., said he had learned as a member of the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia that many women who had borne illegitimate children did not know the first facts about conception.

The problem they had created for themselves and the society in which they lived was caused by ignorance.

Ignorance is the heart of the problem wherever it exists. In the absence of knowledge, human beings have children they do not want and cannot afford to take care of. Where the problem is most acute, in tragically overpopulated countries like India, human ignorance is so pervasive that attempts to reduce the birth rate would have to start with basic education.

In more advanced countries, like the United States, merely making available the knowledge necessary to forestall overpopulation would be enough. No one is suggesting or even thinking about going against religious precepts. The purpose of public dissemination of birth control information would be only to make it available to persons ignorant of the subject.

It would authorize government to do what hasn't been done by parents who didn't carry out the parental obligation to tell their children about the birds and bees. Some failed because they didn't know.

Ignorance is the cardinal cause of rising concern about a world population explosion. Overcome ignorance and the world population explosion would succumb to the resultant human restraint.

Out Of Order

By Truman Twill

In all the information about the late Bernard M. Baruch, nothing interested me more than the way he used his hearing aid.

As the great speculator and adviser grew older, his deafness increased until he could hear nothing without the hearing aid.

He turned this handicap to his account by turning the device on and off to suit his convenience. If a conversation bored him, he turned it off.

If he wanted to avoid a conversation, he tapped his hearing aid with a finger and explained it was out of order.

This interested me, not because of its bearing on one man's problem of deafness but because of the possible application of the principle to my own problem, which is lack of memory.

No one puts a higher value on friendship and acquaintanceship than I do, but I am unable to remember who people are. I can remember what they are, where I met them, what they do, what they wore the last time I saw them and other things about them, but I cannot remember their names.

I frequently cannot remember their faces, either. I may know I have seen the faces before, but I cannot sort them out in a card-file memory the way other people can—Type 13-F face belonging to ebullient personality, last name Henderson, first name Arthur, lives in Chicago, formerly of Pittsburgh, wife's name Grace, two children both boys, likes football, works for Varoom Oil Co.

This is a constant embarrassment.

I have thought many times of the possibility of wearing tinted glasses and feigning faulty eyesight so no one would expect me to recognize them on sight.

It then would be incumbent on them to announce their names and get things off on the right foot, which some people have learned to do for my benefit anyway.

If everybody did it, there would be no more awkward sparring while I try to remember the name and they try to steer me to it, like the friend who recently rescued me with an anecdote about himself in which someone was so overjoyed to see him they cried out, "Elmer Gudensingle, is it ever good to see you again!"

By feigning blindness, I would have an edge. Everybody would tell me who everybody was and what was going on. And, like Bernard M. Baruch turning off his hearing aid to get rid of pests, I would have an excuse to close my eyes and quit looking when I was bored, as I always am in art galleries after the fifth nude.

The difficulty would be to feign blindness. It would take more than tinted glasses; everybody wears tinted glasses. So the idea isn't feasible. But it's appealing.

If only there were some way to tell the world about the handicap of nominative amnesia, which is inability to remember people's names and to put familiar faces and names together. Maybe a seeing-eye dog would be the answer.

"Sure I remember you. You're the abominable snowman. I'd recognize you anywhere! Bite 'im, Duke."

Still Tastes Awful, But . . .

Is House Dominated By Rural Bloc?

COLUMBUS

Cooled by apathy and impasse, reapportionment of the Ohio House of Representatives appears to be one of the deadest issues of this dying legislative session.

Except for a few exploratory conferences by Republican and Democratic leaders a few weeks ago, no serious attempt has been made to resolve the problem which was thrust back on the legislature with defeat of Issue No. 3 last May.

BUT THE question of rural domination of the House — which touched off the whole reapportionment struggle — is far from dead.

It is a question politicians and political scientists have been unable to resolve as conclusively as the courts have. Events of the last week help to show why.

On one hand, rural influence could be detected in both action and inaction in critical areas of county government.

On the other hand, the power of solidarity among the big-city delegations was demonstrated in a disruptive floor session on court legislation.

While it is true there have been few instances of rural bloc voting in the last decade, an area of influence often overlooked is the House Rules Committee which holds life-or-death judgment over all legislation.

Of 11 members on this committee, only 4 represent counties with more than 100,000 population.

THEORETICALLY, a majority vote of the committee either kills a bill or sends it to the House floor. But in practice, one or more members who harbor strong feelings against a bill can at least delay its arrival on the floor until death from natural causes is imminent.

Thus it is that a bill to require county commissioners to advertise for bids on purchases of $1,000 or more has been locked in the committee for six weeks.

The reason has been obvious. County commissioners have carried their strong objections to the committee members, particularly those from rural counties.

At the same time, a bill most commissioners would like to see become law is moving along greased skids, with much of the propulsion supplied by House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, who rules the Rules Committee.

Among other things, the bill would permit counties to adopt charters and assume the same revenue authority as home rule cities. This would include submitting the question of a county-wide income tax to the voters, with only a majority vote required for adoption.

THE BILL says no country could per-empt a city's income-taxing authority, but several urban representatives take a different view. They see the bill as one which could engender dangerous fiscal confusion that would play havoc with municipal financing.

Cloud has seen no merit to any objections thus far and has said the House should have a chance to vote on it. This is enough to guarantee the bill's appearance on the floor.

It would be unfair, however, to imply the Rules Committee balks at legislation beneficial to cities. There is no rural blockade in that respect just as surely as there was a metropolitan brigade at work during the row over expansion of common pleas courts.

The court bill, calling for additional judges in Summit and Medina counties, came to the floor after detailed examination by the House Judiciary Committee which denied requests for more judges in Cuyahoga and Hamilton counties.

CUYAHOGA, Hamilton and Lucas county delegations, totaling 31 members, banded together and began rewriting the bill with floor amendments.

In close voting, which carried with bipartisan metropolitan unity, Hamilton and Cuyahoga managed to get their judges into the bill.

This roughshod rejection of the committee's recommendations came as a blow to Judiciary Chairman Edmund James, R-Noble, who argued eloquently against the amendments. During the melee, James wondered aloud:

"If you are going to ignore all our recommendations, what purpose does the committee serve? Why are we here?"

At this point, Cloud returned after an absence from the rostrum in time to call for a vote on a Lucas County amendment. The Hamilton County delegation, led by Cloud's lieutenant, Robert Reckman, broke ranks and Lucas County was turned down.

Back in command, Cloud interrupted the session to call the Republicans into caucus. He announced upon return that under constitutional rules the bill required 92 votes to pass.

The vote came without debate and the bill lost by 6 votes.

Rural domination or big city boondoggling. You see enough of both here to know why the issue of reapportionment has become so mired in the legislative bog.

Renato Quintieri, a Christian Democrat deputy, asked in the lower house that Finance Minister Roberto Tremelloni state whether measures have been taken to guarantee the collection of taxes on the Beatles' Italian earnings—expected to be in the neighborhood of $100,000.

To the strains of "Auld Lang Syne," the old colors, presented by her when she was Britain's queen in 1939, were marched off for the last time.

NEW YORK (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, U.S. ambassador at large, says that criticism of the Johnson administration's foreign policy, especially in Viet Nam, has come from what he termed "bleeding hearts."

"If you listen to some of the bleeding hearts in this country," Harriman said, "you begin to think we started the troubles in the world instead of the Communists."

Mount Kennedy

Snow - covered Mount Kennedy looms up in stark, lonely splendor above the craggy tips of still unnamed mountains just east of the Alaskan border in the St. Elias Mountains, highest range in North America.

Mount Kennedy was discovered in 1935 by a National Geographic Society expedition. Its official height recently was determined by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey and the Canadian Department of Mining and Technical Surveys. They made a traverse survey extending from the Alcan Highway in Canada to Alaska's akutat Bay.

Surveyors anchored a bronze disk into the granite face of Mount Kennedy, 480 feet below the summit. The marker will serve as a fixed point for future mapping surveys there.

The geographic position of Mount Kennedy was fixed as follows: 60 degrees 20 minutes 28.2 seconds latitude and 138 degrees 58 minutes 02.6 seconds longitude. The bronze marker's exact position is 60 degrees 19 minutes 56.31 seconds latitude and 138 degrees 58 minutes 21.91 seconds longitude.

An Endurance Test

By David Lawrence

U.S. Must Reiterate Firm Viet Stand

The Viet Nam war is becoming a test of endurance. The Communists are sure the United States will falter and ultimately give in. They read in the American newspapers that many members of Congress are making speeches which can be interpreted as a desire for surrender. They see article after article proposing that the United States get out of Southeast Asia altogether.

David Lawrence

There is no doubt that wars are unpopular with the American people. No war has ever been entered with enthusiasm, but when the war gets under way there is usually a recognition that it is important to win victory in the shortest possible time.

Undermining the morale of the troops by casting doubt on the policies of one's own government in the middle of war can be tragic. That is why "free speech" is no excuse for giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

The most important task before the government today, therefore, is to convince the world that it does not intend to get out of Viet Nam until the main objective there has actually been achieved.

What is the objective? It's to make sure that the people of Viet Nam will be able to live their own lives without facing a Communist threat to take over their government and oppress them.

THE WORLD has witnessed the effects of surrender policies in the last 20 years. Eastern Europe is a living example of how the conqueror has come, retained complete control of the local governments, and made a mockery of the principle of self-determination. There was no effective response to such aggressive action. There was acquiescence instead.

Many Americans do not understand the relationship between a war in Viet Nam and their own lives. They are being told every day that wars in a far-distant land are of no importance to them and could just as well be ignored. Realistically, the armed services of the United States are still quartered in various parts of the world — not only in Southeast Asia but in Western Europe as well.

Certainly the tense situation surrounding the Berlin wall has been more publicized than the facts about Viet Nam. Aggression is better understood when it is explained in terms of what can happen in Europe if the United States withdraws its aid from its Western allies.

GREAT BRITAIN, moreover, is involved at the moment in helping to save Malaysia from the Communist intrigues engineered by Sukarno, the Indonesian leader.

There is trouble not only in the Middle East but in Africa. Indeed, throughout the world the danger spots are still numerous.

Yet the basic principles remain the same. If the United States gives up the fight and, as the most powerful nation in the world, withdraws from the contest, there will be more acts of aggression. Ultimately, Western Europe will be overrun and America will truly be plunged into a nuclear war.

The United States today stands guard in the Far East. It has, by resolution of Congress, announced that it will not permit Formosa to be invaded without coming to the defense of the Nationalist Chinese.

THE PHILIPPINES, Australia and Japan expect the United States to come to their rescue if there is a Communist attack.

The entire equilibrium, however, can be disturbed if the United States drops out of Viet Nam. So the problem now is to reiterate to the world that, even if it takes five years or 10 years, the United States intends to stay in Viet Nam until some way of maintaining peace has been found.

There isn't the slightest objection in theory to the use of the United Nations machinery to bring about a peaceful settlement. Also, the efforts being made by the British Commonwealth Conference of Nations are welcomed. The Communists will wish to extricate themselves when they realize that they cannot win the war.

The essential fact for peoples everywhere to understand is that the United States is determined to go through with its policy in Viet Nam and that it's resolved to win out against aggression.

IT ISN'T necessary for military operations to be extensive in order to accomplish that objective but it is necessary for such a strategy to be sustained at all costs.

It's all-important for the Communists to recognize that they can go no further with their world imperialism and that they had better stop interfering with the right of the smaller nations to govern themselves.

No more unselfish action has ever been taken by a major power than that of the United States in coming to the defense of a helpless people in a distant land such as Viet Nam, but behind the idealism is a realization that, unless these aggressions against small nations are checked, millions of people, including Americans, can be plunged into a disastrous war of mammoth proportions.

Couple First To Be Wed In Newly-Erected Church

The New England States were chosen for a honeymoon by Mr. and Mrs. G. Joseph Bertella, who were united in marriage June 19 at 7 o'clock at the St. Clair Ave. Church of Christ in the presence of about 300 guests.

It marked the first wedding performed in the new church, which was dedicated this month.

Mrs. Bertella is the former Miss Virginia Arbuthnot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Arbuthnot, Birch Rd., R.D. 1. Her husband is from Ellwood City, where the couple will reside following their wedding trip.

The double - ring ceremony was performed by Charles Hendershot of Athens, a former pastor of the church. Music was provided by a chorus comprised of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Austen Moore, Ramon McCullough, Mrs. Donald Alexander and Mrs. Gary Vaught, under the direction of Donald Adams.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a silk peau de soie white gown which featured a round neckline, lace bodice and long fingertip sleeves. The gown was highlighted with a panel - effect back, ending in a brief chapel train. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a jeweled pillbox crown. She carried a Bible, given to her by Miss Susan Lewis, adorned with a cascade arrangement of roses, stephanotis and orchids. She observed the familiar wedding traditions.

Mrs. Sidney Perkins was matron of honor and Mrs. G. James Nelson of New Castle, Pa., and Mrs. Edwin J. Riddle of Canonsburg, Pa., were bridesmaids.

They wore floor-length orchid gowns, fashioned with round necklines and pillbox headpieces with brief matching veils. They carried cascade bouquets of white orchids and a deeper shade of orchid asters with stephanotis.

MRS. JOSEPH BERTELLA

Miss Donna Wilkes Weds Pvt. Mobley At Wellsville

In a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Robert Andrews June 19 at 2:30 o'clock in the First Christian Church, Wellsville, Miss Donna Wilkes became the bride of Pvt. Dale E. Mobley.

A half-hour of nuptial music was played by Ralph Falconer, church organist, preceding the ceremony and Miss Joyce Westlake sang two selections.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilkes of the old Salineville Rd. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mobley, 1797 Clark Ave.

Before an altar of palms and red roses, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of peau de soie with a re-embroidered Alencon lace bodice and three-quarter length sleeves. The V-shaped neckline was fastened in back with tiny covered buttons, which also held a detachable Watteau train.

The skirt was bell-shaped. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a bridal hanky and wore a blue garter given her by her sister, Mrs. Janet Mobley. The sixpence in her shoe was sent to her from England by Mrs. Carol Tipton. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was held with a cluster of peau de soie petals trimmed with tiny seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with tiny pink sweethearts.

Miss Angela Weeda, maid of honor, was attired in a pink floor-length embroidered gown with a floor - length train and matching shoes, white gloves and a gold necklace given her by the bride. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and pink rosebuds.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Joyce Householder, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Mobley, sister of the bridegroom. They both wore floor - length gowns of peau de soie with overskirts of embroidered silk and floor-length trains. Their shoes matched their gowns. Mrs. Householder wore gold and Miss Mobley baby blue. They also wore white gloves and gold crosses given them by the bride and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations with red rosebuds in the center and streamers matching their gowns.

The bride's mother chose pink with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore yellow with white accessories and a corsage of yellow tinted carnations. Both grandmothers wore pink corsages.

The flower girl, Carla Sue Householder, niece of the bride, was dressed in a mint green gown with a white embroidered overskirt and floor - length train. It matched the bridesmaids' dresses. She also wore a gold cross, white gloves and shoes and a picture hat trimmed with lily - of - the - valley, which also decorated her basket of red rose petals. The bride's mother fashioned and made the attendants' and the flower girl's gowns.

The ring bearer was Brian Householder, a nephew of the bride. He was attired in a white coat and black pants, as were the ushers. The family pews were marked with white satin bows and lily-of-the-valley.

Willard Mobley, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were William Wolfe, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Fred Mobley Jr., a brother of the bridegroom.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the church social room, where a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple, centered the table. Silver and crystal were used for service. Large white bells were hung from the ceiling.

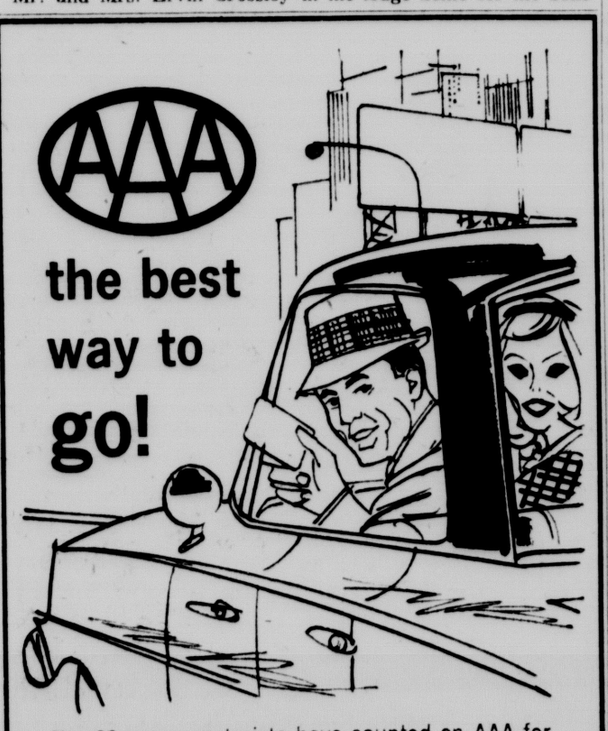

The bridal table was centered with a large white heart holding two wedding bells and a pair of bridal candles trimmed with lily-of-the-valley. Iridescent net was looped around the table over the damask tablecloth and caught up with tiny pink primroses. There were also bouquets of pink roses on the table.

Aides were Mrs. William Wolfe, sister of the brridegroom, Mrs. Goldie Wise, the bride's aunt, and Miss Debbie Stillwell and Miss Linda Stillwell, cousins of the bride. Guests were registered by Miss Patty Braden, cousin of the bride, from California, Mineral Ridge, Vienna, Columbiana, Zanesville, Calcutta and East Liverpool.

Both are graduates of Wellsville High School, the bride this spring and her husband in 1964. The bridegroom will return to Camp LeJeune, N. C., and the bride will reside temporarily with her parents.

They both wore floor - length gowns of peau de soie with overskirts of embroidered silk and floor-length trains. Their shoes matched their gowns. Mrs. Householder wore gold and Miss Mobley baby blue. They also wore white gloves and gold crosses given them by the bride and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations with red rosebuds in the center and streamers matching their gowns.

The bride's mother chose pink with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore yellow with white accessories and a corsage of yellow tinted carnations. Both grandmothers wore pink corsages.

The flower girl, Carla Sue Householder, niece of the bride, was dressed in a mint green gown with a white embroidered overskirt and floor - length train. It matched the bridesmaids' dresses. She also wore a gold cross, white gloves and shoes and a picture hat trimmed with lily - of - the - valley, which also decorated her basket of red rose petals. The bride's mother fashioned and made the attendants' and the flower girl's gowns.

The ring bearer was Brian Householder, a nephew of the bride. He was attired in a white coat and black pants, as were the ushers. The family pews were marked with white satin bows and lily-of-the-valley.

Willard Mobley, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were William Wolfe, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Fred Mobley Jr., a brother of the bridegroom.

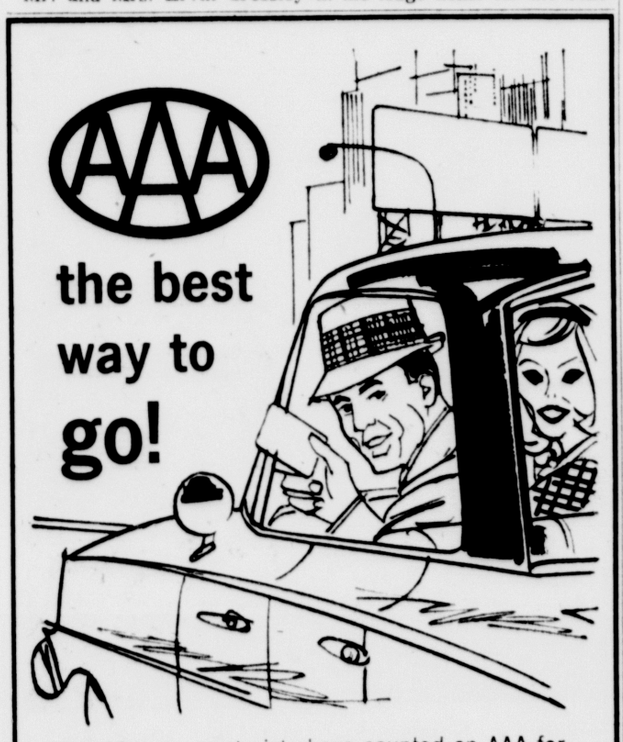

A reception for 100 guests was held in the church social room, where a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple, centered the table. Silver and crystal were used for service. Large white bells were hung from the ceiling.

The bridal table was centered with a large white heart holding two wedding bells and a pair of bridal candles trimmed with lily-of-the-valley. Iridescent net was looped around the table over the damask tablecloth and caught up with tiny pink primroses. There were also bouquets of pink roses on the table.

Aides were Mrs. William Wolfe, sister of the brridegroom, Mrs. Goldie Wise, the bride's aunt, and Miss Debbie Stillwell and Miss Linda Stillwell, cousins of the bride. Guests were registered by Miss Patty Braden, cousin of the bride, from California, Mineral Ridge, Vienna, Columbiana, Zanesville, Calcutta and East Liverpool.

Both are graduates of Wellsville High School, the bride this spring and her husband in 1964. The bridegroom will return to Camp LeJeune, N. C., and the bride will reside temporarily with her parents.

Youngstown Man Elected Lay Leader

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP) — H. Walter Damon of Youngstown has been elected lay leader of the North-East Ohio Annual Conference of the Methodist Church.

Damon was the unanimous choice of delegates Friday to hold the highest post open to a layman in the conference. Reber Bright of Beverly was named associate lay leader, and M. B. Hawkins of Akron was elected secretary for the conference board of lay activities.

The conference approved a $3,257,120 budget for the coming 12 months. Of this amount, $825,000 goes to the world service mission program. A total of $303,620 was budgeted for four Methodist colleges and the various Wesley foundations in the state. The Methodist Theological Seminary at Delaware will receive $90,000, and $100,000 goes to the Berea Methodist Children's Home.

Assignments for 634 ministers will be read today. Some 130 pastoral changes are expected to be among the annual assignments.

The six-day conference ends Sunday.

Bible Meeting To Begin Sunday At Calcutta U.P.

The fifth Calcutta Summer Bible Conference will begin Sunday at the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church and will continue through Friday.

Bible classes will be held daily at 10 a.m., with services at 7:30 p.m., featuring the Rev. Ernest G. Malyon, a member of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, as the speaker.

Rev. Malyon is widely known in the Pacific Northwest as a pastor and Bible teacher. He began his service with the Institute in September of 1958.

After high school and normal school training in Canada, he taught school for six years in the Province of Ontario. After graduating from the pastors' course of Moody Bible Institute in 1941, he went on to take further study at the University of Minnesota and Bethel Seminary in St. Paul, Minn.

The Male Quartet from Moody Bible Institute will sing. The team, known as Melody - Aires, is touring the northeastern United States, holding sacred concerts in churches and at Bible conferences for the institute's public relations division.

A varied program of sacred, instrumental and other music is presented.

The Rev. Thomas Clyde is pastor.

Plane

"At first I thought there were survivors shining flashlights at us. Then we got closer and saw they were little grass fires.

"This is the worst air disaster I've covered in 24 years of service, including Korea and World War II."

Reporters speculated that the tail section of the big transport must have cracked, like a whip, after it hit the ridge — spewing bits of luggage and clothing over a wide area.

The tail whipped over the top of the ridge and its fuselage apparently exploded, further scattering bodies and wreckage.

Several bodies and a wheel were hurled nearly a mile. The cockpit section, with a body still strapped in, was located a full mile from the point of impact.

Personal effects — including photographs of loved ones — were everywhere. Remnants of green uniforms and Marine dress blues were impaled on the thorns of cactus plants.

El Toro, 40 miles southeast of Los Angeles, is rimmed by the Santa Ana Mountains. The crash scene is at the 1,200-foot level and four and one-half miles north of the takeoff runway.

Federal Aviation Agency officials declined to reveal contents of a tape recording of the last conversation between the control tower and the pilot of the ill-fated plane, Capt. William F. Cordell Jr., 27.

Both the pilot and the copilot, Capt. Jacques S. Senecal, 31, were experienced airmen. Cordell had 3,000 hours of flying time and Senecal 3,800.

6 Ohioans Included Among Crash Victims

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — Six Ohioans were included in a list of persons killed Friday in the crash of an Air Force C135 jet transport near El Toro, Calif.

They included:

Cpl. James H. Brock, son of John C. Brock, Birmingham.

Pvt. Jerry Skidmore, next of kin Doris Skidmore, Cincinnati.

Fire Equipment Action Scheduled

Action on bids for the purchase of a fire tanker for the East station in Dixonville will be taken by Liverpool Township trustees when they meet next Friday night at 7:30 in the Little Building.

The decision came following a special meeting Thursday night when the various bids were studied.

Bids have been received from Wimmer Motor Sales and O. S. Hill & Co. for the purchase of a truck chassis and from the Baughman Mfg. Co. for a tank.

The trustees have received no definite word on when the county work crew will be in the township to resurface roads. Armstrong Ln., Curry Ave. and 7th Ave. in LaCroft are among rodas to be resurfaced.

It was reported that good progress is being made on the chipping job on the township roads.

4-H Club

The Elkton Merry Maids 4-H Club will hold a mother-daughter picnic Aug. 17 at Whinery's Landing at Guilford Lake.

low the Red capital, spokesmen said.

Thunderchiefs were used for the first time in strikes against Viet Cong targets in South Viet Nam, a spokesman said. They said four of the planes hit a troop concentration in Binh Dinh Province 280 miles north of Saigon. Pilots estimated that 100 Reds were killed.

A Tass dispatch from Hanoi said American jets flew over the Communist capital and drew antiaircraft fire. The official Soviet news agency said five planes were downed in this and other action. There was no confirmation from other sources.

In Washington, the Pentagon denied that any American planes were lost over Hanoi. A spokesman declined to comment when asked whether American aircraft had flown over that city.

Authoritative government sources in Seoul, South Korea, said the South Vietnamese government has asked South Korea to send a combat division to South Viet Nam.

The sources said Premier Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky asked for the troops in a cable sent Thursday.

There were reports in Seoul earlier this month that the Koreans would send about 15,000 combat troops to Viet Nam. There now are about 2,500 noncombat Korean troops in Viet Nam.

LASTING MEMORIES ARE PRICELESS
The Memorial you choose should be—it must be—a worthy keeper of memory. When it is erected in its place in the cemetery, it should bring dignity to that place, and beauty . . . and it should bring an inspiration to stranger and kin alike for years yet uncounted. Its purchase warrants thought and guidance. We offer a wide selection of beautifully designed Monuments in our newly-stocked display rooms, where you can shop in comfort and privacy. Our modern facilities enable us to offer estimates within any budget—large or small, and at the same time maintain the highest standard of quality— for which we are known. For reasons of economy or because of cemetery restrictions you may require one of the many styles of beautifully designed Bronze Markers, which we have on display. If you live beyond a visit . . . we will gladly furnish transportation. Yes, for complete confidence make certain you consult Graham and Wagner, no obligation, of course. We guard our reputation by guarding your Memorial investment.

Lance Cpl. Charles L. Stevens, husband of Linda K. Stevens, Cambridge.

Fire Equipment Action Scheduled

Action on bids for the purchase of a fire tanker for the East station in Dixonville will be taken by Liverpool Township trustees when they meet next Friday night at 7:30 in the Little Building.

The decision came following a special meeting Thursday night when the various bids were studied.

Bids have been received from Wimmer Motor Sales and O. S. Hill & Co. for the purchase of a truck chassis and from the Baughman Mfg. Co. for a tank.

The trustees have received no definite word on when the county work crew will be in the township to resurface roads. Armstrong Ln., Curry Ave. and 7th Ave. in LaCroft are among rodas to be resurfaced.

It was reported that good progress is being made on the chipping job on the township roads.

4-H Club

The Elkton Merry Maids 4-H Club will hold a mother-daughter picnic Aug. 17 at Whinery's Landing at Guilford Lake.

Those attending are to take a coverdish, table service, wieners and buns.

Roger Kyes' Duties Are Expanded By GM

Roger M. Kyes' responsibilities have been expanded by the General Motors Corp at Detroit.

Kyes, vice president in charge of GM's accessory divisions, will assume jurisdiction over the Allison division and the corporation's defense activities, effective next Thursday.

Kyes is the son of the late Atty. and Mrs. L. M. Kyes of East Palestine.

Bricklayer's Killed In Scaffold Mishap

CLEVELAND (AP)—A bricklayer was killed when a scaffold rope broke and he fell 50 feet to a roof Friday. His partner of five years escaped by clinging to a six-inch window ledge.

Zeineth Awarski, 34, a bricklayer from Seven Hills, died at St. Vincent Charity Hospital about an hour after the fall.

3,000 Watch LaCroft Event

More than 3,000 were on hand for the annual Liverpool Township Volunteer Fire Department parade at LaCroft Friday night.

Fred Fryman, general chairman, said some 50 units participated in the event, conducted yearly in conjunction with the firemen's carnival, now under way next to the fire station.

Prizes were awarded to the New Cumberland Department for the best appearing pumper; Swissvale, Pa., for the farthest distance traveled; Weirton, Co., best emergency truck; Midland, oldest active truck, and Janettes of East Palestine for the best drill team.

Norman Neal, Calcutta Department, Herman Heiney, Glenmoor and Kenneth Schneidmiller and Chief Robert Badger, Liverpool West, were the judges. Homer Cronin, assistant chief, introduced the units as they passed the reviewing stand.

low the Red capital, spokesmen said.

Thunderchiefs were used for the first time in strikes against Viet Cong targets in South Viet Nam, a spokesman said. They said four of the planes hit a troop concentration in Binh Dinh Province 280 miles north of Saigon. Pilots estimated that 100 Reds were killed.

A Tass dispatch from Hanoi said American jets flew over the Communist capital and drew antiaircraft fire. The official Soviet news agency said five planes were downed in this and other action. There was no confirmation from other sources.

In Washington, the Pentagon denied that any American planes were lost over Hanoi. A spokesman declined to comment when asked whether American aircraft had flown over that city.

Authoritative government sources in Seoul, South Korea, said the South Vietnamese government has asked South Korea to send a combat division to South Viet Nam.

The sources said Premier Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky asked for the troops in a cable sent Thursday.

There were reports in Seoul earlier this month that the Koreans would send about 15,000 combat troops to Viet Nam. There now are about 2,500 noncombat Korean troops in Viet Nam.

LASTING MEMORIES ARE PRICELESS
GRAHAM AND WAGNER
The Memorial you choose should be—it must be—a worthy keeper of memory. When it is erected in its place in the cemetery, it should bring dignity to that place, and beauty . . . and it should bring an inspiration to stranger and kin alike for years yet uncounted. Its purchase warrants thought and guidance. We offer a wide selection of beautifully designed Monuments in our newly-stocked display rooms, where you can shop in comfort and privacy. Our modern facilities enable us to offer estimates within any budget—large or small, and at the same time maintain the highest standard of quality— for which we are known. For reasons of economy or because of cemetery restrictions you may require one of the many styles of beautifully designed Bronze Markers, which we have on display. If you live beyond a visit . . . we will gladly furnish transportation. Yes, for complete confidence make certain you consult Graham and Wagner, no obligation, of course. We guard our reputation by guarding your Memorial investment.

Parks Council's Cleanup Project Opens At Church

LISBON — Members of the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council launched a cleanup project today at the Williamsport Methodist Church, which the group purchased recently to provide a site for religious services for visitors and campers at Beaver Creek State Forest Park.

Launched this morning, the project will continue until 4:30 p.m., according to Donald Elliott of Rogers, president. Plans were made at a meeting Thursday night at the park site following a strawberry shortcake supper served by the Clarkson Grange.

Elliott said contributions to help with the purchase of the church may be made in care of "Williamsport Church Fund, Lisbon."

The council also received a report on work on restoration of Gaston's Mill, which is near the park headquarters. The group said contributions still are needed. The mill's original waterpowered equipment will be restored.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Who would guess that just out of sight there's a six-lane turnpike! Thousands of people drive past this peaceful place every day, and never know it exists. Occasionally, through a break in the sheltering trees, someone glimpses shining water and green pasture-land in the distance . . . then the road curves, and the lovely scene is forgotten.

Many travellers hurry along life's road with empty hearts and unseeing eyes, never realizing what the transforming beauty of the Christian faith could mean to them. Because they always expect to find happiness around the next bend, they overlook the still waters of spiritual peace.

In the quiet, hallowed atmosphere of the Church, God answers man's deepest needs. Through prayer and worship, our souls are strengthened and restored. And when we continue our journey, we are not alone. God is with us.

Parks Council's Cleanup Project Opens At Church

LISBON — Members of the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council launched a cleanup project today at the Williamsport Methodist Church, which the group purchased recently to provide a site for religious services for visitors and campers at Beaver Creek State Forest Park.

Launched this morning, the project will continue until 4:30 p.m., according to Donald Elliott of Rogers, president. Plans were made at a meeting Thursday night at the park site following a strawberry shortcake supper served by the Clarkson Grange.

Elliott said contributions to help with the purchase of the church may be made in care of "Williamsport Church Fund, Lisbon."

The council also received a report on work on restoration of Gaston's Mill, which is near the park headquarters. The group said contributions still are needed. The mill's original waterpowered equipment will be restored.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Who would guess that just out of sight there's a six-lane turnpike! Thousands of people drive past this peaceful place every day, and never know it exists. Occasionally, through a break in the sheltering trees, someone glimpses shining water and green pasture-land in the distance . . . then the road curves, and the lovely scene is forgotten.

Many travellers hurry along life's road with empty hearts and unseeing eyes, never realizing what the transforming beauty of the Christian faith could mean to them. Because they always expect to find happiness around the next bend, they overlook the still waters of spiritual peace.

In the quiet, hallowed atmosphere of the Church, God answers man's deepest needs. Through prayer and worship, our souls are strengthened and restored. And when we continue our journey, we are not alone. God is with us.

Painting The Town

This is 'Rustic Homestead,' John Nuzzo's first painting. It was one of the seven winners of Kaufman awards during the annual Western Pennsylvania Scholastic art exhibit at Pittsburgh in 1962, when John was a senior in high school.

The excitement of New York City and what it has to offer art students has persuaded two Midland boys—Bill McGeehan and John L. Nuzzo—to return in September to "Baghdad On The Hudson" where they have just completed nine months as students at the Art Students League of New York in Manhattan.

The youths are graduates of Midland High School and were students of Lawrence Novak, advanced art instructor, who is very pleased with their accomplishments.

McGeehan was given a scholarship to the art school upon graduation in 1964, and Nuzzo, a 1962 graduate, was working at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., when he decided to develop his artistic ability and join McGeehan on the New York venture.

The trip marked the first break from home for both, and they admit it was difficult at first to attend afternoon and evening classes and still be responsible for cooking, housecleaning, shopping and trips to the laundromats.

What made it tougher was the strict budget they both had to follow. Eventually things began to fall in line and the boys looked forward to the daily classes and also to take in some of the sights of the city.

THE BOYS RENTED an apartment for $115 a month (cheap for New York City) and the three rooms together would barely be equivalent to a large living room in an average home.

Because of limited funds, the boys explored places which required very little money or none.

When asked about New York City, the Midlanders said that the city's size and pace can stun newcomers—New Yorkers walk fast and talk fast because they think they must. The mass movements of people and vehicles present a great free show, they remarked.

The Empire State Building and its breath-taking view provides a thrill one will remember the rest of his life, the boys said.

The much discussed Greenwich Village, centered on Washington Square at the foot of Fifth Ave. is colorful. Many kinds of people wander about, some strumming guitars. Free outdoor art shows sprout around the Square which is also flanked with coffee houses and art theaters. The streets and alleys echo its literary past.

Central Park's 840 acres, located only a few blocks from the boys' apartment, offers nature's beauty in the city's heartland. The boys have also visited several times at the Metropolitan Museum of Arts on 5th Ave. and 82nd St.

WHEN IT COMES to eating in New York City, the boys report one can buy a hot dog on a 3rd Ave. sidewalk or dine on an $18 luncheon on the same street. Since the boys had to be careful of money, they did most of their cooking at the apartment. Their menu included spaghetti and meat balls and hamburger prepared in many ways. McGeehan, who can take a prize in dish washing and Nuzzo, head chef, returned ten pounds heavier.

"Fabulous" was the word they used in describing the World's Fair, even though they saw very little of it. McGeehan managed to see one game of the 1964 World Series.

The youths spotted several celebrities during their stay —Jacqueline Kennedy, who was a former student at the Art Students League; Betsy Palmer of the "I've Got a Secret" television program, and Carl Reiner of the "Celebrity Game" television program.

The school they attend was founded in 1895 and is located on W. 57th St. in Manhattan. The school has grown rapidly and has become among the most influential in American art. It is the only one in the country where the student may choose between an "academic" teacher and a young avant-grade painter.

THE BOYS WERE taught by Earl Mayan, known primarily for his covers and illustrations in the Saturday Evening Post. His work has also appeared regularly in other publications, including Bantam Books, True Magazine and McCalls Magazine.

The Midland youths spent the first year of study doing sketches of live models under the supervision of Mayan and others.

They plan to continue on their art work during the summer months and also have entries in the annual art exhibit sponsored by the Midland Council Knights of Columbus in July.

McGeehan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McGeehan of Midland. His father is Midland Justice of Peace and operates the McGeehan Real Estate Agency.

Nuzzo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Nuzzo of Fairview, and his father is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

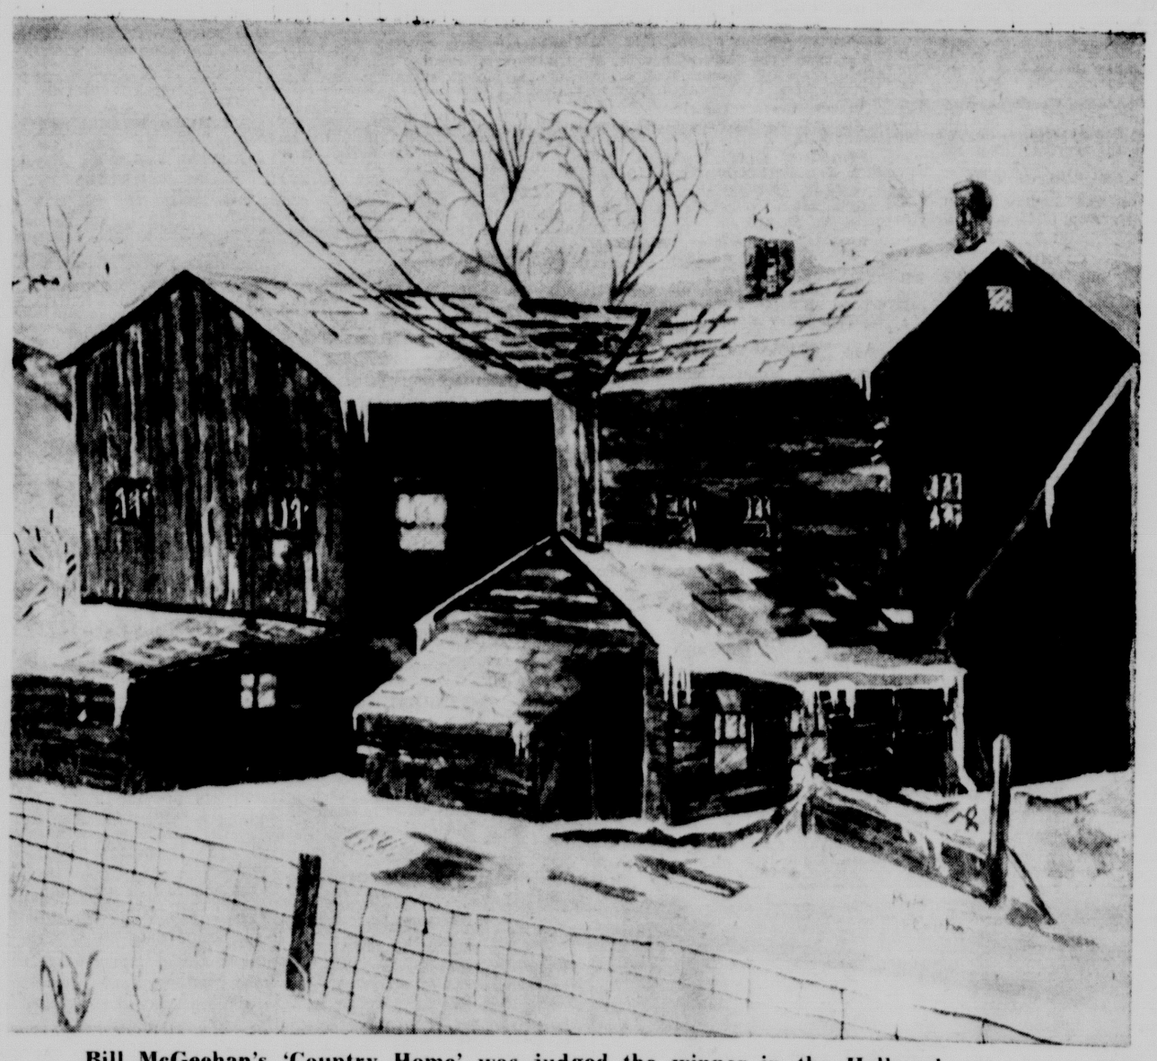

Both are applying for Ford Foundation scholarships and will be screened and tested on their talents when they return to studies in the fall.

A combination of hard work, ability and luck should earn them realization of hopes to become commercial illustrators in that hustling, competitive, challenging world on Manhattan Island.

McGeehan is working at the Mackintosh Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co., in Midland. Nuzzo is seeking employment for the summer also to help further his education. He even would be willing to wield a brush—a paint brush, that is!

Several sketches of models are discussed by Lawrence Novak, advanced art instructor at Lincoln High School, Midland, with Nuzzo and McGeehan.

Bill McGeehan's 'Country Home' was judged the winner in the Hallmark art contest sponsored in 1964 by the Beaver County Federation of Women's Clubs. Bill was a senior at the time.

The Sun Shows Signs Of Moodiness

The temperamental star goes through cycles that last an average of 11 years, the National Geographic Society says. At the high point in solar activity, flares and sunspots appear. Radiation races through space to play hob with communications on the earth and to create brilliant auroras.

AT THE low point, the sun loses most of its visible spots, and radio communications on earth are good. The sun apparently entered a calm in the summer of 1964. Recently, however, it has been acting up.

To obtain data during a subsequent period of calmness, scientists established the International Years of the Quiet Sun, abbreviated IQSY—a two-year program involving investigators from 70 nations. The IQSY will end next Dec. 31, but study of the data will continue for several more years.

IQSY scientists are using rockets, satelllites and balloon-borne telescopes, as well as more conventional techniques, to observe sun phenomena.

The sun is essentially a sphere of gas whose internal thermo-nuclear reactions convert hydrogen to helium. The enormous heat expands the gas, but the sun's gravitation compresses it. Thus the star retains its form.

AT THE END product of the thermonuclear reactions, the sun emits a variety of electromagnetic radiation, including visible light (sunlight), gamma rays, X-rays, ultraviolet radiation, infrared radiation, microwaves, and radiowaves.

IQSY scientists are sampling material from space consisting of low - energy plasma — matter in an ionized but electrically neutral state —and neutral gas. Through this interplanetary medium move the electromagnetic radiation and high-energy particles given off by the sun.

Networks of special cameras have been established across the Arctic and Antarctic regions and elsewhere to observe auroras. The northern and southern lights are most intense during the great magnetic storms which generally follow flares on the sun.

Scientists are also investigating airglow — a soft, pervasive glow visible in the sky on clear, moonless nights. The airglow is believed caused by sunlight, which ionizes or excites atoms in the atmosphere; as the atoms return to their narmal state, energy is emitted as visible light.

Present solar outbursts, expected to climax about 1969, shoot out protons at nearly the speed of light. These protons are of special interest to space experts because of their possible danger to astronauts.

Solar protons might also prove hazardous for passengers in future supersonic transport aircraft, expected to cruise above 70,000 feet where the atmosphere is too thin to protect them.

The first records of soap being used as a washing agent are found in the writings of Galen, a Greek physican who lived in the 2nd Century. There are earlier mentions of the basic ingredients of soap in the writings of Pliny the Elder, a Roman scholar of the 1st Century.

The Lighter Side

PTA To Meet At Y For Talk On USSR

Midland NAACP Sets Dinner At USW Hall

Editors and reporters sometimes take too much for granted the interest and understanding of readers, especially in the case of initials and headlines.

U.S., LBJ, CIO and JFK should be known to most adults and young people familiar with the national scene.

But what about NATO, IOOF, ABLE, TST, IBOP, Y & O., and some of the other initials commonly found in The Review?

Our head writers steer away from initials as much as possible, because the abbreviations can be meaningless for readers and sometimes can lead to confusion and unwanted humor.

FOR EXAMPLE, would this be acceptable for a story concerning a union delegation visit to the Homer Laughlin Co. to witness the lighting of a kiln?

IBOP Goes To HL To View Kiln Firing

PAA Raps MA.

A. O. Goldsmith in 1958 wrote an article for the Journalism Quarterly about a study he had made about use of initials in headlines.

He tested ten sets of initials on a group of business women and housewives in St. Louis and a group of journalism students at the University of Iowa.

The percentages of readers who knew exactly what the initials meant were:

YM-YMCA	95%	USSR	40%
C. of C.	78%	NAACP	40%
UCLA	73%	ICBM	40%
VIP	68%	AFL-CIO	25%
NATO	58%	AAUW	15%

Another area of journalism which strains the comprehension of the average reader is that of legal terminology.

HOW MANY KNOW what a demurrer is, the meaning of remanded, what happens when a person is bound over?

A study of this problem on understanding court terms in newspaper columns was made by W. J. Brier and J. B. Rollins of Montana State University in 1963, questioning 105 adults, randomly selected, on their knowledge of 40 legal terms.

The men's answers were 48.8 per cent correct, the women's 40.3 per cent.

Here's a breakdown on the words and the number of correct answers:

Jury	96	Extradition	50
Suspended jail sentence	88	Arraigned	43
Defendant	86	Indicted	39
Arrested	80	Statute Of Limitation	34
Forfeited a bond	80	Extortion	33
Waived Counsel	77	Continuance	24
Rested Its Case	71	Felony	24
Alleges	67	Habeas Corpus	20
Booked	63	Admitted To Probate	19
Inquest	63	Administratrix	18
Larceny	60	Stay Order	15
Appealed	57	Venire	15
Battery	53	Mandamus Action	5
Accessories Before Fact	50	Demurrer	2

We asked a street corner "lawyer" of our acquaintance if he knew the meaning of all the terms, and he replied in the affirmative.

Directed to put at least ten of the terms into a sentence, he thought for a moment, and came up with:

"The demurrered blonde stole a battery and accessories before the fact, and arraigned to waive at counsel who appealed to her, but he indicted he would rather have a continuance with his own administratrix and the defendant rested its case."

"What about habeas corpus?" I asked.

WITH THAT, I decided to prepare the following glossary for his aid—and, I discovered—for my own:

ALLEGE—to declare as a fact without proof yet established.

INQUEST—an assembly of persons to inquire into a matter, such as a cause of death.

LARCENY—a theft or unlawful carrying away of property.

APPEAL—a taking of a legal case decided by a lower court to a higher court for a re-hearing, or seeking a rehearing on new grounds.

BATTERY—unlawful beating or use of force on another person; involving actual touching.

ASSAULT—unlawful verbal attack or an attempt or offer to hurt another without actual touching.

ACCESSORIES BEFORE THE FACT—persons not actually present but contributing as assistants or instigators of a crime by helping in its planning.

EXTRADITION—surrender of an accused criminal by one state to another which claims jurisdiction in the case.

ARRAIGN—to call a prisoner before the court to answer an indictment.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS—law establishing the number of years in which a person must be brought to trial after a crime or civil offense or else he cannot be tried.

EXTORTION—to obtain money or property from a person by undue force or illegal power.

CONTINUANCE—delaying a court preceeding to a later time.

FELONY—a grave or serious crime, compared to a misdemeanor, or less serious offense.

HABEAS CORPUS—an order to take a person before a court, the right of a person to obtain such an order as a protection against illegal imprisonment.

ADMITTED TO PROBATE—the placement of a will with a court where a judge determines if the document is genuine.

STAY ORDER—a court directive to stop or suspend a legal procedure.

DEMURRER—a plea by one legal party that the claim of the other is insufficient, that even if all the facts listed in the claim were true, the defendant would still not be legally liable to plaintiff.

"Now do you understand them?" I asked my so-called knowledgeable friend.

"Sure," he replied. "Let's eat."

"What do you want?"

"How about some fried torts and a bowl of nolo contendere?"

Cheers For The Cheerleaders

The camp was conducted under auspices of the National Cheerleading Association.

This is the second year in a row the squad has won first place in its division. Some 150 girls from schools in various parts of the state attended the camp.

The reserve squad also attended the week - long camp. It tied for second place in its division. The reservists are Carol Robinson, Becky Davidson, Sherry Dinch, Elka Katz, Penney Pringle and Diane Sell.

Wellsville's cheerleaders are selected each year by out-of-town judges. The judges this year were Miss Sally Peck, a graduate of Kent State University, and Mrs. Gyla Nicely, girls' physical education instructor at East Junior High School.

The girls were sponsored by various individuals and groups.

Wellsville also has freshmen and eighth - grade cheerleading squads.

Stamps In The News

To honor the 400th anniversary of the settlement of Florida, the U.S. will issue a 5-cent commemorative stamp Aug. 28 with ceremonies at St. Augustine — the oldest continuous settlement in continental United States.

Coinciding with this issuance, Spain also will put forth stamp honoring the occasion and it will be of identical design. The city was founded by the Spaniards in 1565.

The U.S. previously has issued joint stamps with other countries. In 1959 the U.S. and Canada issued almost identical stamps commemorating the St. Lawrence Seaway. In 1961 the U.S. saluted 150 years of Mexican independence with a stamp resembling the one issued by Mexico.

THE FLORIDA stamp will depict a Spanish explorer with flowing cape and sword aloft. Behind him is the royal banner of Spain. Across the top is the wording "Settlement of Florida 1565-1965."

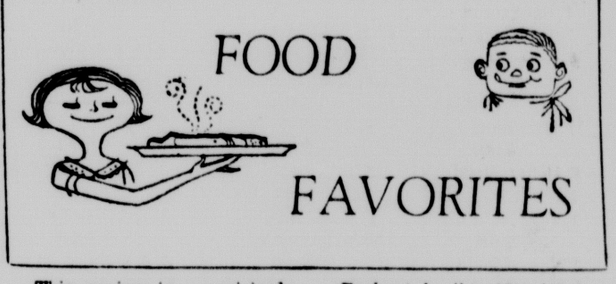

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send their envelopes, together with remittances to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, St. Augustine, Fla., prior to Aug. 28.

ISRAEL will issue two new stamps honoring its Dead Sea Industries, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America.

The stamps are unique in that both show an extraction plant which forms a complete picture when both stamps are placed side by side. The 12 agorot and 50 agorot feature symbolical drawings of the chemical plant.

The Republic of Korea has issued a new stamp, honoring its "increased Food Production Plan" initiated this year and scheduled to run until 1971. The design depicts cupped hands holding crops. In the backgrounds is a tractor ploughing the land plus a mother and child anticipating a good harvest. The value is 4 won.

Indonesia has issued a new set of four stamps commemorating the 10th anniversary of the first Afro - Asian Conference. The two lower values show a hand holding a scroll. The higher values depict the official symbol of the first conference.

This recipe is surprisingly easy to prepare and allows "Mom" plenty of time to join the crowd on the patio. It was sent in by Mrs. Dawn Hammond of Industry R.D. 1.

APPLE-GLAZED SPARERIBS

1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
Dash monosodium glutamate
½ cup apple jelly
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon dry mustard

Preheat broiler 10 minutes. Sprinkle rack of spareribs with salt, pepper and monosodium glutamate. In small saucepan, melt apple jelly over low flame; then stir in lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and mustard.

Brush or spoon mixture onto ribs and broil 15 minutes. Brush ribs frequently with apple jelly mixture to give a good brown crust. Turn, brush second side and cook same length of time. Serves 4.

You And The Law

On July 4, Americans will celebrate what should be the most cherished holiday in their history, "Independence Day."

Unfortunately, too many of us often forget the meaning behind this particular observance and think of it as only "another day of fun."

OUR Declaration of Independence, signed in 1776, sets out principles of our way of life and stresses the fact that ours is a government of laws, and not of men, as well as the importance of certain rights that no government can rightfully take away from us.

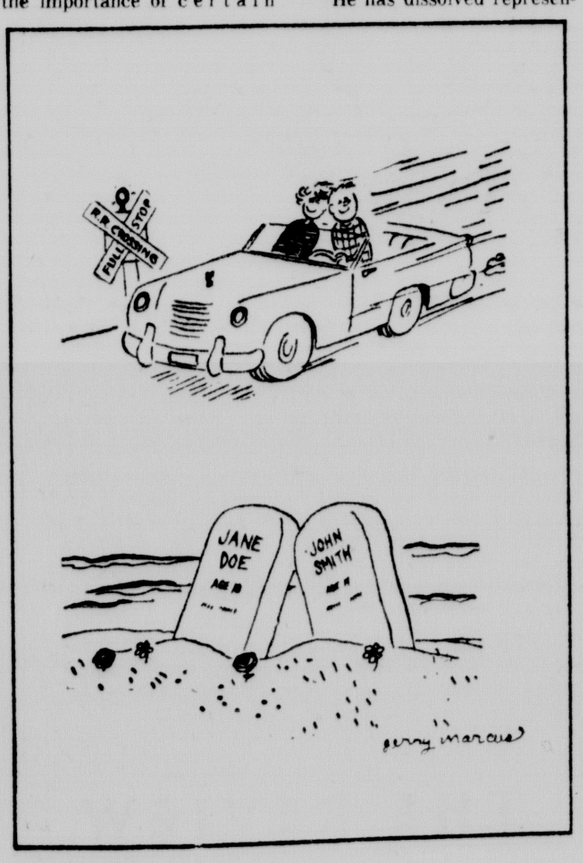

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. . ."

The Declaration charges that the king violated these principles:

"He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people. He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers. He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries. He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation; for depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; for transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences; for taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; for suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

NOTE HOW many of the principles and grievances deal with your rights — your right to a fair trial, an impartial and independent judge, and the right to live under laws your representatives have enacted. Day by day in undreamed of complex situations our courts, backed by executive power and legislation, do go on seeking to protect these rights.

This Independence Day, give thought to the meaning of the celebration — and resolve to uphold the American way of law.

Treasure Chest

A nervous traveler once called the National Geographic Society library to inquire about bandits on the Mexican-Guatemalan frontier.

After quick research, a librarian told the caller that the last prominent bandit operating in the borderland recently had been killed. But she could not guarantee the absence of lesser bandidos.

Requests for myriad facts are part of the daily routine at the library. Less routine was the unexpected appearance of two dozen Army officers who were taking an intelligence course. As part of the training, they were required to prepare reports on different countries.

The officers occupied all available space in the public reading room and spilled over into staff offices with books, maps, periodicals and newspaper clippings.

The library is a vital research facility of the National Geographic Society's editorial staff, but it is also widely used by the public, students, teachers, all branches of government, the armed services, and the Washington diplomatic corps.

The National Geographic library is largely the creation of Esther Ann Manion, who is retiring in October after 43 years as librarian of the Society.

Miss Manion has been responsible for building one of the world's finest special libraries in the fields of geography and exploration. The library also is strong in natural and physical sciences and general reference.

The Lighter Side

PTA To Meet At Y For Talk On USSR

Midland NAACP Sets Dinner At USW Hall

Editors and reporters sometimes take too much for granted the interest and understanding of readers, especially in the case of initials and headlines.

U.S., LBJ, CIO and JFK should be known to most adults and young people familiar with the national scene.

But what about NATO, IOOF, ABLE, TST, IBOP, Y & O., and some of the other initials commonly found in The Review?

Our head writers steer away from initials as much as possible, because the abbreviations can be meaningless for readers and sometimes can lead to confusion and unwanted humor.

FOR EXAMPLE, would this be acceptable for a story concerning a union delegation visit to the Homer Laughlin Co. to witness the lighting of a kiln?

IBOP Goes To HL To View Kiln Firing

PAA Raps MA.

A. O. Goldsmith in 1958 wrote an article for the Journalism Quarterly about a study he had made about use of initials in headlines.

He tested ten sets of initials on a group of business women and housewives in St. Louis and a group of journalism students at the University of Iowa.

YM-YMCA	95%	USSR	40%
C. of C.	78%	NAACP	40%
UCLA	73%	ICBM	40%
VIP	68%	AFL-CIO	25%
NATO	58%	AAUW	15%

Another area of journalism which strains the comprehension of the average reader is that of legal terminology.

HOW MANY KNOW what a demurrer is, the meaning of remanded, what happens when a person is bound over?

A study of this problem on understanding court terms in newspaper columns was made by W. J. Brier and J. B. Rollins of Montana State University in 1963, questioning 105 adults, randomly selected, on their knowledge of 40 legal terms.

The men's answers were 48.8 per cent correct, the women's 40.3 per cent.

Here's a breakdown on the words and the number of correct answers:

Jury	96	Extradition	50
Suspended jail sentence	88	Arraigned	43
Defendant	86	Indicted	39
Arrested	80	Statute Of Limitation	34
Forfeited a bond	80	Extortion	33
Waived Counsel	77	Continuance	24
Rested Its Case	71	Felony	24
Alleges	67	Habeas Corpus	20
Booked	63	Admitted To Probate	19
Inquest	63	Administratrix	18
Larceny	60	Stay Order	15
Appealed	57	Venire	15
Battery	53	Mandamus Action	5
Accessories Before Fact	50	Demurrer	2

We asked a street corner "lawyer" of our acquaintance if he knew the meaning of all the terms, and he replied in the affirmative.

Directed to put at least ten of the terms into a sentence, he thought for a moment, and came up with:

"The demurrered blonde stole a battery and accessories before the fact, and arraigned to waive at counsel who appealed to her, but he indicted he would rather have a continuance with his own administratrix and the defendant rested its case."

"What about habeas corpus?" I asked.

WITH THAT, I decided to prepare the following glossary for his aid—and, I discovered—for my own:

ALLEGE—to declare as a fact without proof yet established.

INQUEST—an assembly of persons to inquire into a matter, such as a cause of death.

LARCENY—a theft or unlawful carrying away of property.

APPEAL—a taking of a legal case decided by a lower court to a higher court for a re-hearing, or seeking a rehearing on new grounds.

BATTERY—unlawful beating or use of force on another person; involving actual touching.

ASSAULT—unlawful verbal attack or an attempt or offer to hurt another without actual touching.

ACCESSORIES BEFORE THE FACT—persons not actually present but contributing as assistants or instigators of a crime by helping in its planning.

EXTRADITION—surrender of an accused criminal by one state to another which claims jurisdiction in the case.

ARRAIGN—to call a prisoner before the court to answer an indictment.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS—law establishing the number of years in which a person must be brought to trial after a crime or civil offense or else he cannot be tried.

EXTORTION—to obtain money or property from a person by undue force or illegal power.

CONTINUANCE—delaying a court preceeding to a later time.

FELONY—a grave or serious crime, compared to a misdemeanor, or less serious offense.

HABEAS CORPUS—an order to take a person before a court, the right of a person to obtain such an order as a protection against illegal imprisonment.

ADMITTED TO PROBATE—the placement of a will with a court where a judge determines if the document is genuine.

STAY ORDER—a court directive to stop or suspend a legal procedure.

DEMURRER—a plea by one legal party that the claim of the other is insufficient, that even if all the facts listed in the claim were true, the defendant would still not be legally liable to plaintiff.

"Now do you understand them?" I asked my so-called knowledgeable friend.

"Sure," he replied. "Let's eat."

"What do you want?"

"How about some fried torts and a bowl of nolo contendere?"

Cheers For The Cheerleaders

The camp was conducted under auspices of the National Cheerleading Association.

This is the second year in a row the squad has won first place in its division. Some 150 girls from schools in various parts of the state attended the camp.

The reserve squad also attended the week - long camp. It tied for second place in its division. The reservists are Carol Robinson, Becky Davidson, Sherry Dinch, Elka Katz, Penney Pringle and Diane Sell.

Wellsville's cheerleaders are selected each year by out-of-town judges. The judges this year were Miss Sally Peck, a graduate of Kent State University, and Mrs. Gyla Nicely, girls' physical education instructor at East Junior High School.

The girls were sponsored by various individuals and groups.

Wellsville also has freshmen and eighth - grade cheerleading squads.

Stamps In The News

To honor the 400th anniversary of the settlement of Florida, the U.S. will issue a 5-cent commemorative stamp Aug. 28 with ceremonies at St. Augustine — the oldest continuous settlement in continental United States.

Coinciding with this issuance, Spain also will put forth stamp honoring the occasion and it will be of identical design. The city was founded by the Spaniards in 1565.

The U.S. previously has issued joint stamps with other countries. In 1959 the U.S. and Canada issued almost identical stamps commemorating the St. Lawrence Seaway. In 1961 the U.S. saluted 150 years of Mexican independence with a stamp resembling the one issued by Mexico.

THE FLORIDA stamp will depict a Spanish explorer with flowing cape and sword aloft. Behind him is the royal banner of Spain. Across the top is the wording "Settlement of Florida 1565-1965."

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send their envelopes, together with remittances to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, St. Augustine, Fla., prior to Aug. 28.

ISRAEL will issue two new stamps honoring its Dead Sea Industries, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America.

The stamps are unique in that both show an extraction plant which forms a complete picture when both stamps are placed side by side. The 12 agorot and 50 agorot feature symbolical drawings of the chemical plant.

The Republic of Korea has issued a new stamp, honoring its "increased Food Production Plan" initiated this year and scheduled to run until 1971. The design depicts cupped hands holding crops. In the backgrounds is a tractor ploughing the land plus a mother and child anticipating a good harvest. The value is 4 won.

Indonesia has issued a new set of four stamps commemorating the 10th anniversary of the first Afro - Asian Conference. The two lower values show a hand holding a scroll. The higher values depict the official symbol of the first conference.

This recipe is surprisingly easy to prepare and allows "Mom" plenty of time to join the crowd on the patio. It was sent in by Mrs. Dawn Hammond of Industry R.D. 1.

APPLE-GLAZED SPARERIBS

1 rack (2 lb.) spareribs
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
Dash monosodium glutamate
½ cup apple jelly
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon dry mustard

Preheat broiler 10 minutes. Sprinkle rack of spareribs with salt, pepper and monosodium glutamate. In small saucepan, melt apple jelly over low flame; then stir in lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and mustard.

Brush or spoon mixture onto ribs and broil 15 minutes. Brush ribs frequently with apple jelly mixture to give a good brown crust. Turn, brush second side and cook same length of time. Serves 4.

You And The Law

On July 4, Americans will celebrate what should be the most cherished holiday in their history, "Independence Day."

Unfortunately, too many of us often forget the meaning behind this particular observance and think of it as only "another day of fun."

OUR Declaration of Independence, signed in 1776, sets out principles of our way of life and stresses the fact that ours is a government of laws, and not of men, as well as the importance of certain rights that no government can rightfully take away from us.

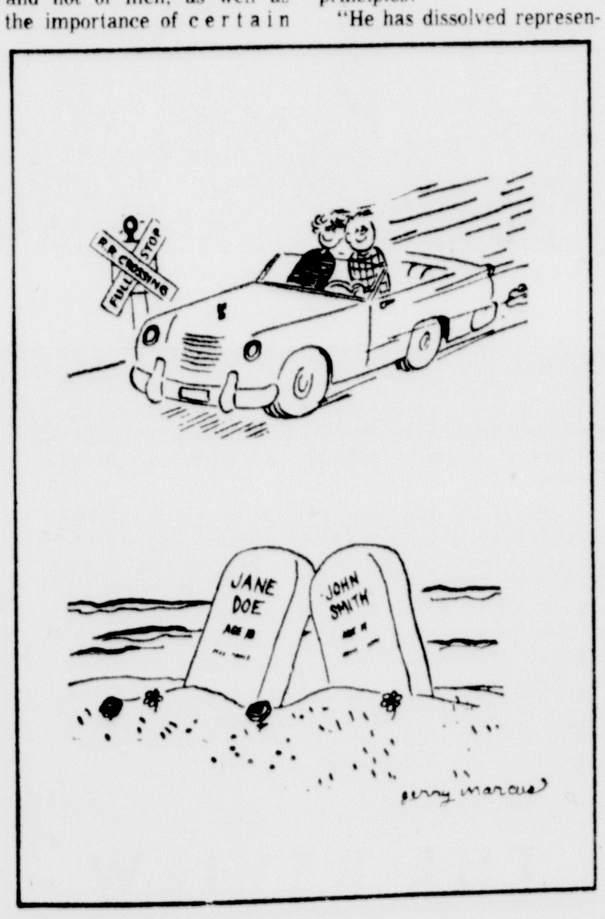

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. . ."

The Declaration charges that the king violated these principles:

"He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people. He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers. He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries. He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation; for depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; for transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences; for taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; for suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

NOTE HOW many of the principles and grievances deal with your rights — your right to a fair trial, an impartial and independent judge, and the right to live under laws your representatives have enacted. Day by day in undreamed of complex situations our courts, backed by executive power and legislation, do go on seeking to protect these rights.

This Independence Day, give thought to the meaning of the celebration — and resolve to uphold the American way of law.

HAROLD C. BOTT

Harold C. Bott Given Promotion With Tire Firm

Harold C. Bott, son of Adam J. Bott of 144 California Ave., Chester, has been named vice president of the Kelly - Springfield Tire Co. at Cumberland, Md.

He joined Goodyear in 1929 as a sole and heel advertising representative in Pittsburgh. Following similar assignments in Newark, N. J., and Baltimore, Bott managed tire stores in Columbus, Ohio, Niagara Falls, N. Y., Erie, Pa. and Buffalo, N. Y. He was appointed store supervisor in Goodyear's Buffalo district in 1941.

After service as a naval officer during World War II, Bott returned to Goodyear as an assistant district manager - retail in Boston. In 1946 he was named district manager at Buffalo. He became eastern division store supervisor in 1952 and was promoted to merchandising manager of the retail stores division in 1957.

Bott later served as manager of Goodyear's midwest region in Des Moines, Ia., and central region in Elk Grove Village, before his election to the Kelly-Springfield post.

Bott is a native of East Palestine and a graduate of Western Reserve University, where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science and earned eight letters in football, basketball and baseball. He is married and has one son.

U.S. Can't Buy Back Planes From France

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has tried in vain to buy back from France about 50 propeller-driven Skyraider fighter-bombers, a workhorse of the Korean war and still useful in Viet Nam.

The planes are no longer being manufactured, but many had been sold to France and other countries. State Department and Pentagon officials said Friday the French replied that theirs were all in use and none was for sale.

Wellsville Area Girl Scouts Wind Up Week of Day Camp

A total of 134 Girl Scouts of the Wellsville area, including 62 Brownies, 66 Juniors and 6 Cadets, completed a week of "Day Camp" today at Wellsville Hammond Park.

Sessions have been held daily from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The girls cooked breakfast this morning. Each of the seven older units were hosts to a Brownie unit and cooked lunch for them.

In keeping with the theme "Gypsy," Brownies have made a covered wagon and other gypsy items. The older girls made a three-legged stool and all have made plaster of paris violin pins and completed tie-dying. The week's program also included tent pitching, hiking, songs and games.

Mrs. Dorothy Bunfill was camp director and Mrs. Nancy Palmer camp site manager.

Unit leaders were Mrs. Barbara Salajczyk, Mrs. Clara Sumpter, Mrs. Harriet Lanam, Mrs. Anna McPeak, Mrs. Ethel Clark, Mrs. Dorothy Payne, Mrs. Jean Cupp, Mrs. Phyllis Roberts, Mrs. Betty Mick, Mrs. Marcella Miller, Mrs. Audrey Stevens, Mrs. Elsie Donnelly, Mrs. Grace DeLauder, Mrs. Jennie Corsello, Miss Jane Morris, neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Almetta Fielding and Mrs. Lucille Foster.

Miss Susan Culp took care of younger children of unit leaders, while Mrs. Jennie Calhoun, R.N., and Mrs. Jean Marcin assisted with first aid. The police department co-operated by patroling the area.

U.S. Lieutenant Cited In Refusal To Enter Combat

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — Lt. Richard B. Steinke was sentenced today to dismissal from the service and forfeiture of all pay and allowances for refusing to join a counter-guerrilla unit in South Viet Nam.

Steinke, 27, Milwaukee, Wis., could also have been sentenced to five years imprisonment.

The lieutenant, who was graduated 55th in the 600-man West Point class of 1962, was charged with refusing to obey a written order and "willful disobedience to expose himself to hostile elements and hazardous conditions."

When he refused to go into combat last January, he said he disagreed with U.S. policy there and that the Vietnamese war was "not worth one American life."

Lausche And Young Co-Sponsors Of Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young, both Democrats, are co-sponsors of legislation introduced in Congress Friday that would help local police and welfare officials locate deserting fathers and husbands.

Lausche said the bill would direct the Department of Welfare to make "available the last known address of any father who abandoned his family." Current law forbids Social Security officials from making such information available.

He's All Set for a Happy Summer

• IN SUMMER, more than ever, an energetic teen-ager realizes how fortunate he is to have a steady income from a growing newspaper route. While so many other boys are seeking odd-job spending money, he is receiving regular profits and special benefits from his own spare-time business.

BESIDES enjoying a pleasing cash return from his route work he has plenty of hours free each day for engaging in other gainful activities. Also, he has more time and money for summer sports, dates, hobbies and outings. As well as the chance to win exciting trips and prizes for carrier-salesmen who excel!

WHAT is your teen-age son doing this summer? If he's not serving a route, urge him to apply for the first one open in your area — by contacting our Circulation Department.

He's All Set for a Happy Summer

• IN SUMMER, more than ever, an energetic teen-ager realizes how fortunate he is to have a steady income from a growing newspaper route. While so many other boys are seeking odd-job spending money, he is receiving regular profits and special benefits from his own spare-time business.

BESIDES enjoying a pleasing cash return from his route work he has plenty of hours free each day for engaging in other gainful activities. Also, he has more time and money for summer sports, dates, hobbies and outings. As well as the chance to win exciting trips and prizes for carrier-salesmen who excel!

WHAT is your teen-age son doing this summer? If he's not serving a route, urge him to apply for the first one open in your area — by contacting our Circulation Department.

THE REVIEW

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I read about the woman who puts a toothpick under the lid of her pan to let the steam out . . .

I have used a clip-type metal hair pin over the side of my pan for years now, and find it works well. It never falls into the pan, and it lets out just enough steam.

Dear Corrine: I wish I could join you, too. Since I can't, have - nother - cup - of - java for me, and thanks for this terrific hint.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: A shoe salesman gave me this tip:

When putting on a baby's shoe, gently straighten his leg at the knee. This way the baby does not curl his toes, and the shoe goes on without all that struggle!

DEAR HELOISE: To protect snapshots kept in wallets that do not have plastic insert containers, I wrap each picture in clear, clinging plastic wrap.

MRS. BEN WEITSMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: My favorite paper pattern was full of holes from being pinned to the fabric.

So I applied tape (the kind you can write on) to both sides of the tissue to cover the pin holes.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: At the time of the year when everyone is busy pickling, preserving, and jam making, I have found a way to postpone some of the work until the weather is cooler.

I measure and prepare the amount of fruit the recipes call for, place it in plastic bags and freeze. At a later date, the fruit can be thawed and cooked in the usual way.

GWEN RESCORL.

DEAR HELOISE: My two children attend nursery school where they do simple drawing and coloring projects.

To remove crayon stains on cotton, apply kitchen shortening and rub in to loosen the stain. Then use liquid detergent and rub in. Use a brush or fingernail, then wash and rinse as usual. Afterwards, bleach may be necessary to remove the remaining traces of color. Cleaning fluid may sometimes be used to remove wax.

Always SPOT - TEST first to be sure the products are safe for your material and to follow instructions and cautions on the container.

HELOISE.

Judge Rejects Bid To Free Man

LISBON — Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp Friday afternoon refused an action to release Joseph Ray Cain of North Georgetown, sentenced on June 11 to 90 days in the County Jail and ordered to pay $100 and costs for assault on Constable Roy Painter of Hanoverton.

During the testimony, Judge Luther Donbar of the Northwest County Court described the proceedings followed on the warrant filed by Painter against Cain.

Painter related how he was called to the tavern by Mrs. Merle Hardy because of a disturbance; found Cain sitting at the bar with a shot gun; took Cain in his car to New Garden, where he waited for Constable Hardy to get through work. They then drove Cain to the Salem City jail and filed charges in Donbar's court.

Atty. Joseph Baronzzi, representing Cain, argued that Painter had acted out of his jurisdiction, since he is constable of Hanover Township and the tavern is in Knox Township; that Cain was driven around several hours before he was advised of the charges were filed, and that he was not aware of the charge to which he had pleaded guilty.

Judge Sharp, in rejecting the writ of habeas corpus, ruled however, that Painter acted within his jurisdiction, that Cain's rights were not jeopardized and that he could have appealed the sentence.

'Help Others,' Lions Urged

The success of Lions International is based on helping others, "which is the true definition of happiness," John L. Herron of New Cumberland, new governor of West Virginia District 29-L, told the local club Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

"The best way to make yourself happy is by helping others," Herron declared. Lions has a definite program of service which brings happiness to others, he said.

Charles Haugh called the attention of members to a petition presented Columbiana County commissioners protesting the vacating of land and flooding of Bethel Rd. for the proposed Highlandtown Dam and cited the economic benefits which would accrue to the area from the dam's operation.

Killed In Collision

Rackets Figure In Pennsylvania Shot To Death

Zeid, who less than 24 hours earlier was convicted in Allegheny County Criminal Court on triple charges in an alleged $12,000 blackmail plot, was discovered by workmen at the edge of a creek bed.

An autopsy showed he had been shot once in the head. He also had been beaten severely.

The body was found on a 137-acre farm owned by James A. Ashton, who defended Zeid in the blackmail trial. He had been released on $10,000 bail pending an appeal.

Zeid, born in Russia, came to this country in 1913. He had a criminal record that spanned 42 years and was best known in the New Kensington area where he had admitted operating a gambling establishment in the 1950s.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I read about the woman who puts a toothpick under the lid of her pan to let the steam out . . .

I have used a clip-type metal hair pin over the side of my pan for years now, and find it works well. It never falls into the pan, and it lets out just enough steam.

Dear Corrine: I wish I could join you, too. Since I can't, have - nother - cup - of - java for me, and thanks for this terrific hint.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: A shoe salesman gave me this tip:

When putting on a baby's shoe, gently straighten his leg at the knee. This way the baby does not curl his toes, and the shoe goes on without all that struggle!

DEAR HELOISE: To protect snapshots kept in wallets that do not have plastic insert containers, I wrap each picture in clear, clinging plastic wrap.

MRS. BEN WEITSMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: My favorite paper pattern was full of holes from being pinned to the fabric.

So I applied tape (the kind you can write on) to both sides of the tissue to cover the pin holes.

Now the pattern is as good as new. And now I can pin through the pattern without tearing it.

This would be a good idea to use on new patterns before the tears appear. Tape is not expensive.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: At the time of the year when everyone is busy pickling, preserving, and jam making, I have found a way to postpone some of the work until the weather is cooler.

I measure and prepare the amount of fruit the recipes call for, place it in plastic bags and freeze. At a later date, the fruit can be thawed and cooked in the usual way.

GWEN RESCORL.

DEAR HELOISE: My two children attend nursery school where they do simple drawing and coloring projects.

To remove crayon stains on cotton, apply kitchen shortening and rub in to loosen the stain. Then use liquid detergent and rub in. Use a brush or fingernail, then wash and rinse as usual. Afterwards, bleach may be necessary to remove the remaining traces of color. Cleaning fluid may sometimes be used to remove wax.

Baking soda, when made into a paste with water, works beautifully when scrubbed hard between the hands. Wash as usual.

Always SPOT - TEST first to be sure the products are safe for your material and to follow instructions and cautions on the container.

Judge Rejects Bid To Free Man

LISBON — Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp Friday afternoon refused an action to release Joseph Ray Cain of North Georgetown, sentenced on June 11 to 90 days in the County Jail and ordered to pay $100 and costs for assault on Constable Roy Painter of Hanoverton.

The incident occurred at the Green Gables Tavern, just west of North Georgetown.

During the testimony, Judge Luther Donbar of the Northwest County Court described the proceedings followed on the warrant filed by Painter against Cain.

Painter related how he was called to the tavern by Mrs. Merle Hardy because of a disturbance; found Cain sitting at the bar with a shot gun; took Cain in his car to New Garden, where he waited for Constable Hardy to get through work. They then drove Cain to the Salem City jail and filed charges in Donbar's court.

Atty. Joseph Baronzzi, representing Cain, argued that Painter had acted out of his jurisdiction, since he is constable of Hanover Township and the tavern is in Knox Township; that Cain was driven around several hours before he was advised of the charges were filed, and that he was not aware of the charge to which he had pleaded guilty.

Judge Sharp, in rejecting the writ of habeas corpus, ruled however, that Painter acted within his jurisdiction, that Cain's rights were not jeopardized and that he could have appealed the sentence.

'Help Others,' Lions Urged

The success of Lions International is based on helping others, "which is the true definition of happiness," John L. Herron of New Cumberland, new governor of West Virginia District 29-L, told the local club Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

"The best way to make yourself happy is by helping others," Herron declared. Lions has a definite program of service which brings happiness to others, he said.

"Genuine happiness comes from outside ourselves; it comes from the sphere of serving others. We must think less of getting, and more of giving."

Charles Haugh called the attention of members to a petition presented Columbiana County commissioners protesting the vacating of land and flooding of Bethel Rd. for the proposed Highlandtown Dam and cited the economic benefits which would accrue to the area from the dam's operation.

Rackets Figure In Pennsylvania Shot To Death

Zeid, who less than 24 hours earlier was convicted in Allegheny County Criminal Court on triple charges in an alleged $12,000 blackmail plot, was discovered by workmen at the edge of a creek bed.

An autopsy showed he had been shot once in the head. He also had been beaten severely.

The body was found on a 137-acre farm owned by James A. Ashton, who defended Zeid in the blackmail trial. He had been released on $10,000 bail pending an appeal.

Zeid, born in Russia, came to this country in 1913. He had a criminal record that spanned 42 years and was best known in the New Kensington area where he had admitted operating a gambling establishment in the 1950s.

Twins Retain Slim Lead In AL By Nipping Tigers, 4-3

Allen's Base Hit Scores Tying Run

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bernie Allen drove in his first run of the season Friday night as the Minnesota Twins edged Detroit 4-3 and retained their half game lead over Cleveland and Chicago.

The game was only the fourth this year for the 26-year-old infielder, who sat out much of spring training with a leg injury. Soon after the season began, the Twins placed Allen on the disabled list.

He returned earlier this month.

He then went to Denver "to play himself into shape." He was recalled this week, played his first game Tuesday night and got two hits. His lone hit Friday night came at a crucial moment.

The Twins were trailing 3-2 and had two out in the ninth inning. Fred Gladding had just replaced Detroit starter Dave Wickersham, who walked Harmon Killebrew and Don Mincher on 3-2 pitches.

Gladding pitched to Allen and Allen grounded a single into center field, bringing home the tying run. After an intentional walk to Rich Rollins, Joe Nossek beat out an infield single while Mincher raced home with the winning run.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Indians blanked Kansas City 2-0, the White Sox stopped Baltimore 6-0, New York defeated Los Angeles 5-1 and Boston trimmed Washington 8-6.

In the National League, Los Angeles beat Pittsburgh 4-1, San Francisco knocked off Philadelphia 4-1, Cincinnati defeated Milwaukee 3-1 in 11 innings, Chicago bombed St. Louis 12-4 and Houston whipped New York 6-2.

Cleveland's Sam McDowell won his ninth game against three losses, giving up four hits and striking out 13 in 8 2-3 innings. Gary Bell got the last out after McDowell walked two Athletics. Rockey Colavito hit his 17th homer while Fred Whitfield also connected for the Indians.

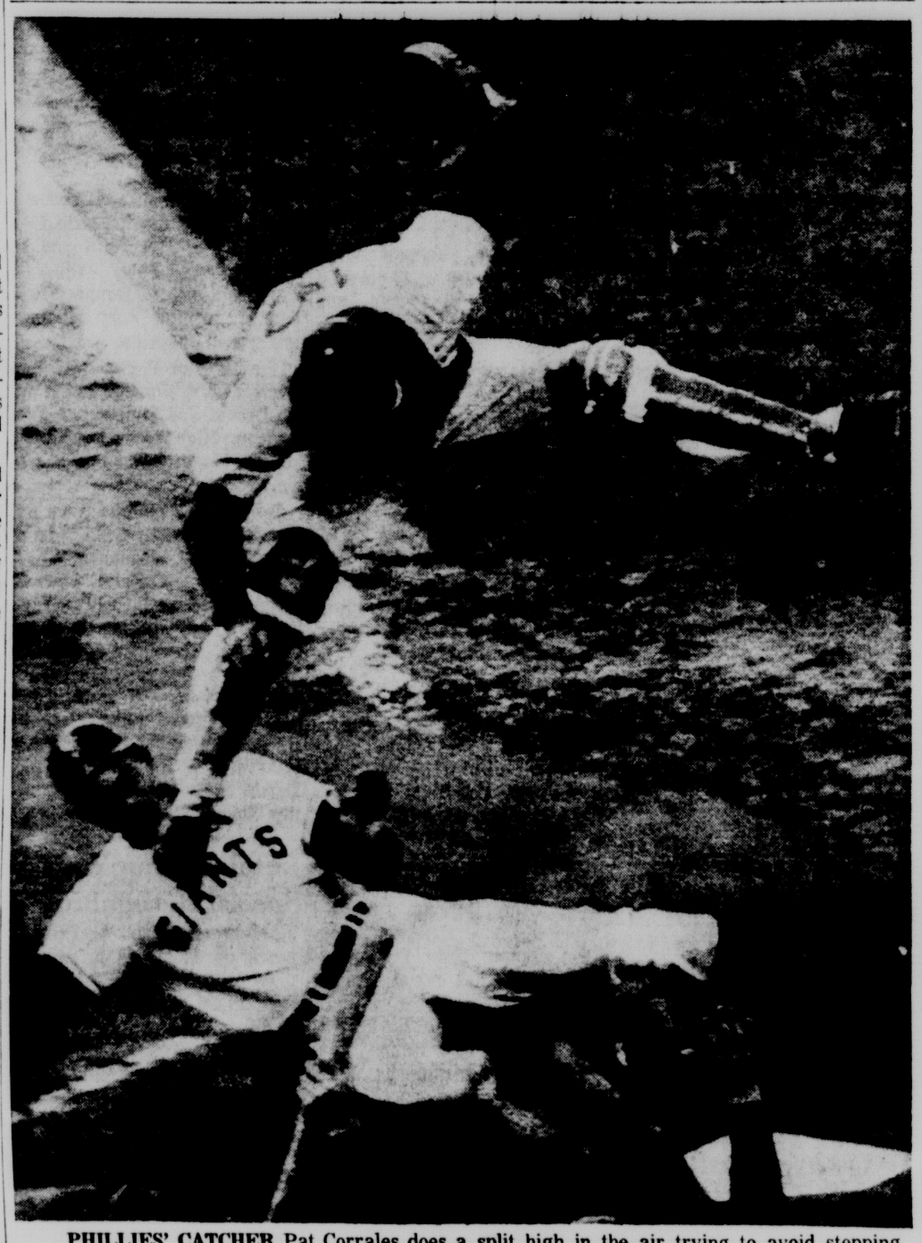

Joe Horlen brought his record to 7-5 with an eight - hitter against Baltimore. The White Sox aided him with four doubleplays, Don Buford's steal of home in the second inning and Bill Skowron's homer in the eighth.

The Yankees snapped a 1-1 deadlock with four runs in the eighth. The Angels' Bob Lee walked Horace Clarke with the bases loaded, forcing in the tiebreaking tally, and Bobby Richardson added two more with a single. Vic Power got all three Los Angeles hits off Al Downing and Pedro Ramos.

Boston erupted for its biggest inning of the year — seven runs in the fifth — and held on against Washington. Felix Mantilla singled across two runs in the outburst, and Rico Petrocelli drove in another pair with a double. The Senators' Woody Held and Ken McMullen slammed two-run homers.

Koufax And Ellis Post Even Dozen

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mrs. Shaw may be a little puzzled by what happened Friday night while Shaw was pitching a one-hitter — allowing only a second inning homer by Wes Covington and the Giants were beating Philadelphia 4-1.

He was accused so often by the Phillies, and so vehemently, that he wound up playing catch with the umpires throughout the game. Bob had to surrender the ball 11 times to plate umpire Chris Pelekoudas and two times to the base umpires for inspection.

While Shaw was posting his seventh victory, Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles and Sammy Ellis of Cincinnati became the National League's first 12-game winners as the Dodgers defeated Pittsburgh 4-1 and the Reds edged Milwaukee 3-1 in 11 innings.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs pounded St. Louis 12-4 and Houston downed the New York Mets 6-2.

Shaw, now 7-3, never allowed more than one Philadelphia base runner at one time and Covington was the only one to get past first base. He tagged a long drive over the right field fence in the second inning for his 11th homer.

The Giants, however, had taken the lead with two first inning runs off Bo Belinsky on a single by Jim Davenport, Jesus Alou's double and Cap Peterson's single. Jim Hart doubled in the final two runs in the fifth.

Koufax, striking out 12 while bringing his record to 12-3 with his sixth consecutive triumph, also singled home the tie-breaking run in the fourth inning after John Roseboro walked and Lou Johnson was hit by a Bob Friend pitch.

Ellis, also 12-3, checked the Braves on eight hits through the 11-inning game. Batterymate Don Pavletich provided the decisive runs with a two-run homer off Billy O'Dell.

The Reds scored in the first inning on two walks and a single by Deron Johnson but the Braves tied it when Joe Torre hit his 15th homer in the fourth inning.

Billy Williams and George Altman each drove in three runs and Doug Clemens stroked four hits, including a homer, as the Cubs pelted the Cardinals and hopped over the defending world champions into seventh place.

The Cardinals committed four errors.

Joe Morgan's two-run triple in the second inning and another triple by Jim Wynn in a four-run fifth inning against Warren Spahn gave the Astros more than enough against the Mets.

Wells' Team Captures Amateur Golf Event

Wells' team finished eight under to capture the Men's Amateur - Amateur tournament Thursday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Along with Wells were Bill Smith, Fred Banfield Jr. and Grant Stover. The team combined for a 32-32-64.

Six other teams crowded into the runnerup spot by finishing seven under. They were captained by Bob Patterson, Harold Putt Jr., Bill Hocking, Bill Laughlin, Bill Kelly and Don E. Smith.

In the best ball of four with no handicap, a team of Harold Putt Jr., Bill Pickin Jr., Bob Goodman and Dick Forzano won with a 35-34-69.

Dr. Frank Bragg finished closet to the pin on No. 4 while D. E. Beatty was four feet from the pin on No. 6. The longest drive on No. 9 was turned in by Fred Banfield Jr. traveling 270 yards.

Thirteen teams were entered in the annual event.

Hancock Savings Defeats Scafide's By 4-3 Margin

Hancock Savings & Loan nipped Scafide's, 4-3, Friday night in the Chester Softball League.

Fine base running by Bob Boston led to the victory for the Hancock nine. Paul Harvey and Don Glass paced the winners with two hits each and both scored a run. Scafide's held a 3-2 lead in the sixth inning after Al Dawson homered.

Hookstown Clubs 4 HR's In 13-1 Win

Hookstown batters clubbed four home runs to post a 13-1 victory over Hanover while Newell won on a forfeit from Lawrenceville in South Side Hot Stove Senior Division action Friday.

Joel Petkovich was the winning pitcher and fanned 11 batters while clubbing one of four home runs for Hookstown. Tom Doak connected for two roundtrippers and Frank Scott added another circuit blast.

Red Sox, Chiefs, Pirates Register HIH Victories

Hammondsville had an easy time with a 20-0 victory over the Highlandtown Apaches as Gene Furbee flipped a one hitter. Chuck Plunkett paced the hitting attack with a pair of home runs while Tim Furbee connected for one.

In a pitchers battle, the Salineville Chiefs defeated the Highlandtown Colts, 4-1. Kim Needham the winning hurler and Kim Boyd, the loser, had 15 strikeouts each.

Bright's Dump Champs; Litten's Win Pony Tilt

Woodbine, with the first half title wrapped up, dropped an 11-8 decision to George Bright's and Litten's scored a 5-3 victory over Burbick's in the Pony League Friday.

Five home runs featured the Bright - Woodbine battle as four Bright batters connected. The foursome included John Johnson, Joe Walker, Dupont and Steve Flannigan. Sonny Clark hit the lone four bagger for Woodbine.

Woodbine led 7-5 after three innings but Bright's came from behind to score twice in the fifth inning, once in the sixth and three times in the seventh.

Johnson was the winning hurler while Mick Lowry was checked with the loss. Dupont had three hits in four trips for Bright's while Logston and Barrett had three safeties for Woodbine.

Litten's put together six hits and six Burbick's errors to gain the nod in the other contest played Friday. Litten's tallied three times in the second and twice in the fifth while Burbick's scored all three of its runs in the last of the seventh.

Allen's Base Hit Scores Tying Run

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bernie Allen drove in his first run of the season Friday night as the Minnesota Twins edged Detroit 4-3 and retained their half game lead over Cleveland and Chicago.

The game was only the fourth this year for the 26-year-old infielder, who sat out much of spring training with a leg injury. Soon after the season began, the Twins placed Allen on the disabled list.

He returned earlier this month.

He then went to Denver "to play himself into shape." He was recalled this week, played his first game Tuesday night and got two hits. His lone hit Friday night came at a crucial moment.

The Twins were trailing 3-2 and had two out in the ninth inning. Fred Gladding had just replaced Detroit starter Dave Wickersham, who walked Harmon Killebrew and Don Mincher on 3-2 pitches.

Gladding pitched to Allen and Allen grounded a single into center field, bringing home the tying run. After an intentional walk to Rich Rollins, Joe Nossek beat out an infield single while Mincher raced home with the winning run.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Indians blanked Kansas City 2-0, the White Sox stopped Baltimore 6-0, New York defeated Los Angeles 5-1 and Boston trimmed Washington 8-6.

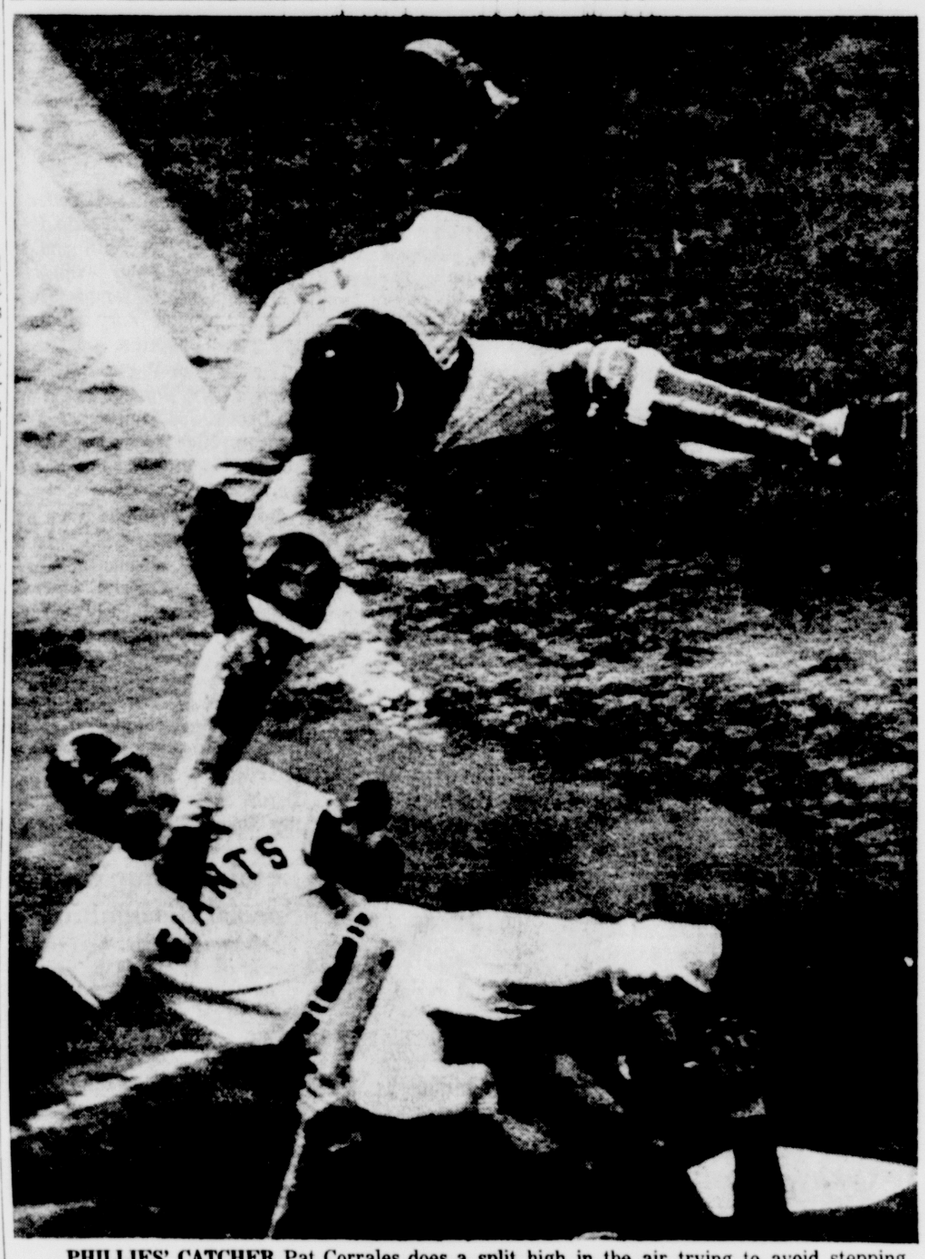

In the National League, Los Angeles beat Pittsburgh 4-1, San Francisco knocked off Philadelphia 4-1, Cincinnati defeated Milwaukee 3-1 in 11 innings, Chicago bombed St. Louis 12-4 and Houston whipped New York 6-2.

Cleveland's Sam McDowell won his ninth game against three losses, giving up four hits and striking out 13 in 8 2-3 innings. Gary Bell got the last out after McDowell walked two Athletics. Rockey Colavito hit his 17th homer while Fred Whitfield also connected for the Indians.

Joe Horlen brought his record to 7-5 with an eight - hitter against Baltimore. The White Sox aided him with four doubleplays, Don Buford's steal of home in the second inning and Bill Skowron's homer in the eighth.

The Yankees snapped a 1-1 deadlock with four runs in the eighth. The Angels' Bob Lee walked Horace Clarke with the bases loaded, forcing in the tiebreaking tally, and Bobby Richardson added two more with a single. Vic Power got all three Los Angeles hits off Al Downing and Pedro Ramos.

Boston erupted for its biggest inning of the year — seven runs in the fifth — and held on against Washington. Felix Mantilla singled across two runs in the outburst, and Rico Petrocelli drove in another pair with a double. The Senators' Woody Held and Ken McMullen slammed two-run homers.

PHILLIES' CATCHER Pat Corrales does a split high in the air trying to avoid stepping on Giants base runner Jesus Alou while trying for a high throw from the outfield. The action took place in the first inning of Friday night's game at San Francisco. The Giants defeated Philadelphia, 4-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Koufax And Ellis Post Even Dozen

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mrs. Shaw may be a little puzzled by what happened Friday night while Shaw was pitching a one-hitter — allowing only a second inning homer by Wes Covington and the Giants were beating Philadelphia 4-1.

Well, Mrs. Shaw, hubby was accused of moistening the baseball in order to throw a spitball.

He was accused so often by the Phillies, and so vehemently, that he wound up playing catch with the umpires throughout the game. Bob had to surrender the ball 11 times to plate umpire Chris Pelekoudas and two times to the base umpires for inspection.

While Shaw was posting his seventh victory, Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles and Sammy Ellis of Cincinnati became the National League's first 12-game winners as the Dodgers defeated Pittsburgh 4-1 and the Reds edged Milwaukee 3-1 in 11 innings.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs pounded St. Louis 12-4 and Houston downed the New York Mets 6-2.

Shaw, now 7-3, never allowed more than one Philadelphia base runner at one time and Covington was the only one to get past first base. He tagged a long drive over the right field fence in the second inning for his 11th homer.

The Giants, however, had taken the lead with two first inning runs off Bo Belinsky on a single by Jim Davenport, Jesus Alou's double and Cap Peterson's single. Jim Hart doubled in the final two runs in the fifth.

Koufax, striking out 12 while bringing his record to 12-3 with his sixth consecutive triumph, also singled home the tie-breaking run in the fourth inning after John Roseboro walked and Lou Johnson was hit by a Bob Friend pitch.

Koufax allowed six hits, with the Pirates scoring in the second on a single by Donn Clendenon, Bill Mazeroski's double and a ground out.

Ellis, also 12-3, checked the Braves on eight hits through the 11-inning game. Batterymate Don Pavletich provided the decisive runs with a two-run homer off Billy O'Dell.

The Reds scored in the first inning on two walks and a single by Deron Johnson but the Braves tied it when Joe Torre hit his 15th homer in the fourth inning.

Billy Williams and George Altman each drove in three runs and Doug Clemens stroked four hits, including a homer, as the Cubs pelted the Cardinals and hopped over the defending world champions into seventh place.

The Cardinals committed four errors.

Joe Morgan's two-run triple in the second inning and another triple by Jim Wynn in a four-run fifth inning against Warren Spahn gave the Astros more than enough against the Mets.

Wells' Team Captures Amateur Golf Event

Wells' team finished eight under to capture the Men's Amateur - Amateur tournament Thursday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Along with Wells were Bill Smith, Fred Banfield Jr. and Grant Stover. The team combined for a 32-32-64.

Six other teams crowded into the runnerup spot by finishing seven under. They were captained by Bob Patterson, Harold Putt Jr., Bill Hocking, Bill Laughlin, Bill Kelly and Don E. Smith.

In the best ball of four with no handicap, a team of Harold Putt Jr., Bill Pickin Jr., Bob Goodman and Dick Forzano won with a 35-34-69.

Dr. Frank Bragg finished closet to the pin on No. 4 while D. E. Beatty was four feet from the pin on No. 6. The longest drive on No. 9 was turned in by Fred Banfield Jr. traveling 270 yards.

Thirteen teams were entered in the annual event.

Hancock Savings Defeats Scafide's By 4-3 Margin

Hancock Savings & Loan nipped Scafide's, 4-3, Friday night in the Chester Softball League.

Fine base running by Bob Boston led to the victory for the Hancock nine. Paul Harvey and Don Glass paced the winners with two hits each and both scored a run. Scafide's held a 3-2 lead in the sixth inning after Al Dawson homered.

In Thursday's game, the scorer credited Peck Glover with a home run but the round tripper was hit by Vic Reed.

Pusateri's, Bank Nines Register Minor Loop Wins

Parfitt fired a two - hitter as Potters Savings & Loan downed First National, 15-3, and Pusateri's handed M & A Motors a 17-12 setback in the Minor League.

Parfitt fanned 10 batters on his way to victory while Madish and Cochran smacked two doubles each. Chema was the losing hurler.

Pusateri's came from behind with seven runs in the fourth inning to stop M & A. Stewart was on the mound for Pusateri's and also collected two hits. Clark also checked in with two hits for the winners. Whisman and Keys had two safeties apiece for M & A with Shaw the losing pitcher.

In one other contest, Potters Bank defeated Rogers' Drive-In, 16-5 as Jeff Howell claimed the pitching victory. Mike Dauka paced the winners by slamming a triple and two singles.

Golden Star, Vets, Medics Post Little League Margins

Golden Star, Veteran Plate Glass and the Medics clicked for victories in the Little League Friday.

Golden Star had to stave off a late bid by Vernon Dell to gain a 10-8 victory. Vernon Dell scored six runs in the final inning before the rally fell short.

Pacing the 12-hit attack for Golden Star was Dean Horger with three singles while Jeff Michels and Bob Robinson slapped a double and single each.

On the mound for the winners was Dave Kyle while Norm McHenry got the loss. Bob Deem smacked three doubles and John Cunningham a double and single for the Vernon Dell nine.

Veteran Plate Glass bounced back to score four runs in the fifth inning in nipping Travelers, 8-6. Jim Tipton secured the mound victory while Rick Lockhart was the loser. Rick Watson's two singles paced the Vets while Clete Payne doubled and singled for the losers.

Jim Moore issued only three hits and fanned eight batters in the Medics 5-1 decision over Burbick's and turned out to be the leading hitter with a triple and double. Rick Welsh also doubled for the winners. Stan Douglas was the losing hurler.

Hookstown Clubs 4 HR's In 13-1 Win

Hookstown batters clubbed four home runs to post a 13-1 victory over Hanover while Newell won on a forfeit from Lawrenceville in South Side Hot Stove Senior Division action Friday.

Joel Petkovich was the winning pitcher and fanned 11 batters while clubbing one of four home runs for Hookstown. Tom Doak connected for two roundtrippers and Frank Scott added another circuit blast.

Red Sox, Chiefs, Pirates Register HIH Victories

Hammondsville had an easy time with a 20-0 victory over the Highlandtown Apaches as Gene Furbee flipped a one hitter. Chuck Plunkett paced the hitting attack with a pair of home runs while Tim Furbee connected for one.

In a pitchers battle, the Salineville Chiefs defeated the Highlandtown Colts, 4-1. Kim Needham the winning hurler and Kim Boyd, the loser, had 15 strikeouts each.

Bright's Dump Champs; Litten's Win Pony Tilt

Woodbine, with the first half title wrapped up, dropped an 11-8 decision to George Bright's and Litten's scored a 5-3 victory over Burbick's in the Pony League Friday.

Five home runs featured the Bright - Woodbine battle as four Bright batters connected. The foursome included John Johnson, Joe Walker, Dupont and Steve Flannigan. Sonny Clark hit the lone four bagger for Woodbine.

Woodbine led 7-5 after three innings but Bright's came from behind to score twice in the fifth inning, once in the sixth and three times in the seventh.

Johnson was the winning hurler while Mick Lowry was checked with the loss. Dupont had three hits in four trips for Bright's while Logston and Barrett had three safeties for Woodbine.

Litten's put together six hits and six Burbick's errors to gain the nod in the other contest played Friday. Litten's tallied three times in the second and twice in the fifth while Burbick's scored all three of its runs in the last of the seventh.

Aaron's 133 Sets Pace At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — That pounding noise behind Tommy Aaron, halfway leader in the St. Paul Open, is a familiar sound to the 28-year-old golfing professional from Gainesville, Ga.

Aaron jumped ahead in the $100,000 St. Paul tourney Friday with a five-under-par 66 that gave him the 36-hole lead at 133, nine under-par. Palmer and five others were two strokes back going into today's third round.

Deadlocked with Palmer at 135 were Joe Campbell, Bob Goalby, Bob Batdorff, Dean Refram and Jacky Cupit. Cupit also had a 66 Friday, tying Aaron for the day's best round.

National Hockey Loop Adds LA And St. Louis

NEW YORK (AP) — San Francisco - Oakland, Baltimore and Minneapolis-St. Paul may be the next three areas to get the stamp of approval from the expansion - minded National Hockey League.

The NHL, eyeing a national television contract and seeking to add another six-team division in a few years to its present six-club setup, announced Friday that Los Angeles and St. Louis have been approved as "acceptable cities." No franchises were awarded.

Ex-Coach At Alliance Takes Lakeview Post

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Warren Binder, former coach at Alliance High School, has taken the head coaching position at Lakeview High School, a Class AA school in Courtland, Trumbull County.

Binder, 34, was fired from his basketball coaching duties at Alliance, causing a city-wide controversy. He will be replaced by Dick Brockett of Waynesville. Binder replaces Andrew Kovacis, who resigned.

Ashe Picks Ralston To Win At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — America's Dennis Ralston was picked today to win the Wimbledon Tennis Championship by someone fairly well placed for an educated guess — his Davis Cup teammate Arthur Ashe Jr.

"And that's not just idle patriotism," said Ashe, the 21-year-old power player from Richmond, Va., who is the only Negro male ever to compete at Wimbledon.

Ralston, 22, America's leading player and the No. 4 seed at Wimbledon, has battled through to the round of 16. His path now seems clear to the semifinal where, barring accidents, he will meet the defending champion, Australia's Roy Emerson.

Hall Of Fame Robbed

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Thieves broke into the National Professional Football Hall of Fame here and took small change from several desk drawers, police said Friday. Nothing else was reported missing. They said entry was gained through a broken window.

Aaron's 133 Sets Pace At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — That pounding noise behind Tommy Aaron, halfway leader in the St. Paul Open, is a familiar sound to the 28-year-old golfing professional from Gainesville, Ga.

Aaron jumped ahead in the $100,000 St. Paul tourney Friday with a five-under-par 66 that gave him the 36-hole lead at 133, nine under-par. Palmer and five others were two strokes back going into today's third round.

Deadlocked with Palmer at 135 were Joe Campbell, Bob Goalby, Bob Batdorff, Dean Refram and Jacky Cupit. Cupit also had a 66 Friday, tying Aaron for the day's best round.

National Hockey Loop Adds LA And St. Louis

NEW YORK (AP) — San Francisco - Oakland, Baltimore and Minneapolis-St. Paul may be the next three areas to get the stamp of approval from the expansion - minded National Hockey League.

The NHL, eyeing a national television contract and seeking to add another six-team division in a few years to its present six-club setup, announced Friday that Los Angeles and St. Louis have been approved as "acceptable cities." No franchises were awarded.

Ex-Coach At Alliance Takes Lakeview Post

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Warren Binder, former coach at Alliance High School, has taken the head coaching position at Lakeview High School, a Class AA school in Courtland, Trumbull County.

Binder, 34, was fired from his basketball coaching duties at Alliance, causing a city-wide controversy. He will be replaced by Dick Brockett of Waynesville. Binder replaces Andrew Kovacis, who resigned.

Ashe Picks Ralston To Win At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — America's Dennis Ralston was picked today to win the Wimbledon Tennis Championship by someone fairly well placed for an educated guess — his Davis Cup teammate Arthur Ashe Jr.

"And that's not just idle patriotism," said Ashe, the 21-year-old power player from Richmond, Va., who is the only Negro male ever to compete at Wimbledon.

Ralston, 22, America's leading player and the No. 4 seed at Wimbledon, has battled through to the round of 16. His path now seems clear to the semifinal where, barring accidents, he will meet the defending champion, Australia's Roy Emerson.

Hall Of Fame Robbed

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Thieves broke into the National Professional Football Hall of Fame here and took small change from several desk drawers, police said Friday. Nothing else was reported missing. They said entry was gained through a broken window.

Front runner

The Gravely charges into lawn and garden chores head first... getting tough jobs done faster, easier, better. With safer out-front attachments working for you, you can see what you're doing all the time. Mowing is just a walk (or ride, if you're sitting on a sulky). Plowing a garden, or moving snow is a snap. With 49 attachments, the Gravely has the fixtures and features you deserve. Come in, or call for free demonstration. You can be a Front Runner, easily, with our Gravely Budget Plan.

74-A Automobiles For Rent

A A DEALER needs cars and pickups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,563 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. — There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

P. S. PARTS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY or on tap within 24 hours. STARTING JUNE 20TH Service almost immediately. Call Mr. Charles Coen, your local man from Wellsville and our service manager or Mr. Earl King, parts manager for more information.

74-A Automobiles For Rent

A A DEALER needs cars and pick-ups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,563 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. — There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

P. S. PARTS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY or on tap within 24 hours. STARTING JUNE 20TH Service almost immediately. Call Mr. Charles Coen, your local man from Wellsville and our service manager or Mr. Earl King, parts manager for more information.

"I always signal for a turn even if I'm going straight—in case I suddenly change my mind."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I prevent the bottom crusts of my pies from becoming soggy?

A.—By rubbing the crust with egg white before putting your filling in. With fruit pies, sterner measures are called for. Cover the bottom crust with a thin layer of bread crumbs, then add your fruit filling. The crumbs will soak up the excess juices.

Q.—How can I create my own warning device that the water in the bottom of my double-boiler has boiled away?

A.—A few marbles placed in the bottom of your double-boiler will raise such a clatter when the water is gone that you'll jump to the rescue.

Q.—How can I prevent grease spots on plastered walls, also freshly - patched spots, from "bleeding through" new wallpaper or new paint and ruining its appearance?

A.—Cover the top of the ice cream container with a sheet of waxed paper before the freezer lid is put on, and this will be avoided.

The most sparsely populated territory in the world, with the exception of Antarctica, is Greenland. It has 0.04 person per square mile, or one person to every 25 square miles.

Junior Editors Quiz on AIR

QUESTION: What is air made of?

ANSWER: Air is so light and free that at times it is hard to believe it is a definite thing. Yet when we feel the wind blowing strongly or see sailboats moving along, we realize that this must be so. What we called matter can be in solid, liquid or gaseous states. It is because air is composed of several gases mixed together that we can't see it, for gases are the lightest and most invisible states of matter. Yet this light, invisible thing is of absolute importance to us. Without air a person could live for only a matter of minutes.

The block at lower right shows the main elements of the air and their proportions. As you see, nitrogen is the largest component of air. We all have this substance in the protoplasm or living material which is in our bodies. Nitrogen is extremely important to plants; farmers often enrich their fields by adding fertilizers rich in nitrogen. Oxygen is the gas found in the next largest proportion in air. Oxygen unites with other chemical substances to create oxidation, or burning. It is the oxygen we take in from the air which unites with the food we eat, creating heat inside our bodies, without which we could not live. Various other gases make up the rest of the air; it also carries minute particles of water vapor and dust.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look up "air pressure" in an encyclopedia and you will realize that air has definite weight.

★ ★ ★

'Hams' Hold Annual Event

The Triangle Amateur Radio Club of East Liverpool is holding its annual field day today and Sunday at Swaney Airport, near Apples Corners.

The exercises, which will run from 5 p. m. today to 5 p.m. Sunday, are in conjunction with National Radio Amateur Field Day when some 300,000 "hams" make spot calls to each other from various locations across the nation.

On this day all interested operators set up their emergency equipment and broadcast to each other, using their own portable generators for electricity. No commercial electricity is involved.

Harry Aivalotis, club president, said about 30 members from Chester, Newell, Wellsville, Salineville and East Liverpool will participate and have two or three setups in operation in trailers or tents.

He added that the club will be in operation all night tonight at the airport and that the public "is invited to come out and look things over any time."

The club also will have on display a trailer recently purchased to be used as a mobile emergency station. Norman Delaney is chairman of the Triangle field day exercises.

Commissioners Are Selected For Hancock District

Edwin F. Flowers, Oliver R. Glass and James Vall officially were appointed commissioners for the Tomlinson Public Service District at a meeting of the Hancock County commissioners Thursday afternoon in the courthouse at New Cumberland.

The three previously had been commissioners for the Pughtown Public Service District. The Tomlinson name was adopted when approval was granted for extension of the boundaries enclosing the area which will be included in the Pughtown water project.

Thomas Hagg, Weirton attorney, presented a petition to the commissioners for the closing of a portion of Knowles Ave. in Newell on the basis of its not being used. The matter was continued until the next commissioners' meeting July 6.

Approval was granted for payment of all bills remaining from the closing fiscal year.

It was announced that the courthouse offices will be closed Saturday, July 3, in observance of Independence Day.

Fines Are Assessed In Traffic Violations

Jimmy M. Swiger, 17, of Weirton was fined $50 and costs in New Cumberland city police court Friday conducted by Judge John D. Herron. He was cited by Police Chief William Webster of New Cumberland for reckless driving.

Three other persons were fined $10 and costs each for speeding in hearings before Herron yesterday in the capacity of justice of the peace.

They were Clark N. Gaston, 17, of New Cumberland R.D. 1, Vernon Treggie, 45, of Weirton R.D. 1, and Thomas H. Ingram, 31, of Beaver.

'Hams' Hold Annual Event

The Triangle Amateur Radio Club of East Liverpool is holding its annual field day today and Sunday at Swaney Airport, near Apples Corners.

The exercises, which will run from 5 p. m. today to 5 p.m. Sunday, are in conjunction with National Radio Amateur Field Day when some 300,000 "hams" make spot calls to each other from various locations across the nation.

On this day all interested operators set up their emergency equipment and broadcast to each other, using their own portable generators for electricity. No commercial electricity is involved.

Harry Aivalotis, club president, said about 30 members from Chester, Newell, Wellsville, Salineville and East Liverpool will participate and have two or three setups in operation in trailers or tents.

He added that the club will be in operation all night tonight at the airport and that the public "is invited to come out and look things over any time."

The club also will have on display a trailer recently purchased to be used as a mobile emergency station. Norman Delaney is chairman of the Triangle field day exercises.

Robert Coil, 6, son of Robert Coil, 311 Harrison St., Newell, was in "fair" condition with first, second and third degree burns of the body, parts of the right arm and hand and left upper arm and face. He spilled hot water on himself at home.

Joni Miles, daughter of Mrs. Jean Miles, 346 W. 4th St., suffered lacerations and contusions of both elbows and both knees when she fell from a bannister to the sidewalk.

Johnson Meets, Matches Crisis

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — President Johnson, without the knowledge of his august audience, met and matched a crisis Friday as he addressed the United Nations 20th anniversary convocation in San Francisco.

According to reports attributed to security officers backstage at the War Memorial Opera House, the President's teleprompter started feeding him the words to his speech at blurring speed.

Dividend's Declared By H. K. Porter Board

PITTSBURGH — The Board of Directors of the H. K. Porter Co., Inc., has declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.375 per share on the 5½ per cent cumulative preferred stock and a dividend of $1.0625 per share on the 4¼ per cent cumulative preferred stock.

Both dividends are payable July 30 to stockholders of record July 15, 1965.

Money Turned Over In Judgment Action

LISBON — To meet an attorney's judgment, Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard Friday instructed Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan to turn over $415 taken from Amil Dinsio on March 28, 1963, when he was arrested just east of Columbiana.

Dinsio was indicted on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. The charge was later nulled, however. Dinsio presently is serving time in prison.

Lawrence V. Krigan, who had been Dinsio's attorney on a previous occasion, obtained the judgment and launched proceedings through another attorney to collect it from the money being held by the sheriff's office.

To Test Furnaces

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. plans to begin test operations next week on two new basic oxygen furnaces at the Warren plant. The furnaces, built at a cost of $20 million, will speed up steel production and eliminate red smoke.
